

NINE CITIES URGE WATER OWNERSHIP

City Administration of Eastbay Communities to Take the Lead in Campaign for Big Public Utilities District

Committee Submits Plans for Formation of Municipal Association and Submission of Question at Aug. Primaries

City administrations of nine communities in the Eastbay will take the leadership in a campaign of education to urge the formation of a public utilities district for the ownership of a water supply and the development of a source.

In a report submitted to the mayors of these cities at a special meeting held in Mayor John L. Davies' office this afternoon the committee on recommendations submitted plans for the formation of an Eastbay Municipal Water Association and started the campaign which is to result in a vote, in August, on the utilities district proposal under the new State law.

The recommendations avoid needless sources for disagreement, recognize the elected officials as those responsible for the direction of the campaign, and that the election be held at the time of the August primaries and leave these two issues outside of the preliminary discussion.

The source of supply. Under the State law the board of directors of the utilities district, subject to approval of the people, shall decide upon the source.

The constitutional amendment to create a State Water Power Commission. The committee recognizes that the State water power question has nothing to do with the formation of a utilities district here, and will keep that question entirely without the local discussion.

URGE FORMATION OF UTILITIES DISTRICT.

The special organizations committee, which submitted its report today, recommended:

1—That the city administrations of the nine cities, Richmond, Berkeley, Alameda, Emeryville, Piedmont and San Leandro, take part in the forthcoming election, sponsor, advocate and urge the formation of a municipal utilities district. Reasons given for the necessity for the solution of the water problem in each city. The city officials, the report says, are elected to leadership, and the people look to them to take the lead in this question and to assume leadership in this question and not to "duck" responsibility by the formation of advisory boards or committees which so often are formed only to "buffer" organizations.

2—The formation of an association to be known as the Eastbay Municipal Water Association, the purpose of which will be to educate the public to the necessity of the formation of a utility district and the merits of such formation, to the end that it may vote intelligently on the question. Any person who is a voter in the territory included may become a member of the association and without contributing any money. The executive committee of the association shall be composed of the mayors of the nine municipalities.

3—The association, as such, shall not take part in the proposed constitutional amendment creating a State Water and Power Commission. The formation of a utility district is considered separate and apart from the question of the State Water Commission. It is not fair, the report says, to ask persons who favor the formation of a district to commit themselves to the formation of the State commission. If the amendment is adopted, the report says, the association will take advantage of its financial provisions. If it is not adopted, the association will still go ahead with the plan for the district.

4—The association will take no part in the selection of a new source of supply. It is realized that there is an honest difference of opinion regarding Hatch-Hetchy, El Estero, Sacramento river, etc. The district, therefore, is not formed on the question being held in abeyance until the district is formed. There will then be given plenty of time for a discussion of the various sources and for determination of the most feasible.

5—That the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county be asked to name the August primaries. This would insure a larger vote, as many important offices and questions will be at issue, and it will mean a saving of money.

6—The committees which drew the recommendations includes: Leon Gray, city attorney of Oakland; William Louis Bartlett, of Berkeley; William J. Locke, city attorney; Alameda; Marston Campbell, Oakland; and Ralph Beebe, harbor engineer, Oakland.

DEVELOPMENT DEPENDS ON ADEQUATE WATER SUPPLY.

The following was Mayor Davies' address to the conference:

"As chairman of this committee and as mayor of the city of Oakland, I feel that the future development of the Eastbay community depends upon an adequate water supply.

"As we know, the recent growth of Los Angeles has been phenomenal, and I feel that the fact that the water supply of Los Angeles is con-

THREE MINUTE TALES

TAKEN AT THE FLOOD

FOR a number of reasons that have nothing to do with the story, Harold Evans at 20 was living in 17. Liberated into an atmosphere where he could do as he pleased, he took to reading books that had been prescribed, to roaming in the fields romantic and to seeing himself as the hero of golden adventure.

A gentleman crook, Harold thought, after reading a number of the stories, in which handsome young fellows in evening clothes piffer pearl necklaces from the recklessly rich, offered a tempting figure for emulation. It became his habit to study the role, to read the accounts of weddings and pretentious social affairs, and to visualize himself in a daring game of wits with the police. Imagination and loneliness have made criminals and poets, and young Evans was well on his way.

There came the time when Harold, dressed by the chart for men in the back of a woman's magazine, took to mixing with the throngs at the various large functions into which the untidy guest, if he is possessed of the appearance and the nerve, may intrude. Here he lived the part of a "Raffles," and experienced the delight of a small boy reading a dime novel. Except for purloined hospitality, his record was clear, but the fixed ideas of jewels and theft were working toward expression.

It was at the Willard ball that Harold determined the time had arrived. He moved in the crowd with what he believed was the bored air of a man accustomed to the life and kept his wits alert for the opportunity which the book had said, was certain. There were no unclipped necklaces ready to be lifted and concealed, so, following the familiar suggestion of his heroes, he slipped into the hall and up some stairs in search of a dressing room.

WALKING briskly and as if on a definite and legitimate errand, he entered an open door to find himself the sole occupant of a large room, in which there was a bed, dressing table, and chiffonier. He moved forward, heard a sound of approaching steps, and, panic-stricken, stepped behind the chiffonier. A woman entered, sat down, and began jerking nervously at a pair of long gloves. Her foot drummed on the floor, and she turned her head apprehensively toward the door. Then she buried her face and gave herself almost violently to tears.

Here was an adventure, an appeal to the romantic youth, that was strong enough to make him forget his purpose in the room or his lack of right to be there. Stepping from his hiding place he edged toward the door and approached the woman from his direction.

"Is there anything I can do?" he asked, explaining, "I was going by and heard you sobbing."

The answer was a strange jumble, in which "husband," "divorce," "husband," and "husband" were intermingled. The woman said, "George stood out as marks in a domestic story. I didn't know Jack would be here," the woman said, "or I would not have come. And now I must leave with him or with George without causing a scene, which will disgrace me. Neither can I leave alone. Surely, you must realize that."

A little later Harold and the woman—heavily wrapped and veiled—went out on the porch past the servants and the policeman who were standing at the door, and took a taxi.

"I THANK you so much," said the woman, who seemed scarcely more than a girl. And she added, with an odd emphasis, "There are times when it is impossible for a woman to leave her home like that all alone, and you have helped me."

Next day Harold read that the Willard home had been robbed during the ball, valuables had been taken from the wraps and the dressing rooms and a number of jewels were missing.

"A careful checking over of the guest list, said the paper, "and interviews with persons who were there, have convinced the police that the thefts were committed by the notorious woman 'Raffles,' who is known to them as Marie Latour. A girl answering her description is known to have left the ball early, and it is believed that, for once, she had a male accomplice. Arrests are expected before night."

The last sentence stood, before Harold all day as he kept to his room. He was not a thief, and he was no longer 17. Thinking his stars that he was not a thief, young Evans decided that if he escaped arrest, he would take on a new set of relations.

He is going to be a detective now.

Veteran Carries 40-Pound Baby Across Country

HOBOKEN, N. J., March 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Trudging about across the continent from San Francisco with a 40-pound baby in his arms, Percy K. Hanton, a Canadian war veteran, arrived here today with his wife, Hanton, a swimming instructor and house painter, said he had sought in vain for a job that would enable him to settle down somewhere along the road.

He had only 15 cents when he left San Francisco, he said, but managed to get enough odd jobs to keep the family in food on the trip and leave $1 in the family purse when they arrived in Hoboken.

Local residents gave the family a few lifts, he said, but most of the distance was covered on foot.

MADALYNE WINS FIRST GRILL CLASH

Court Blocks Prosecution's Effort to Show Alleged Duplicitous; Smiles Change to Scowls Under Grilling

Witness Admits Kennedy and She Discussed Separation From Obenchain Shortly After Wedding; Notes Read

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—(By International News Service.)—Madalynne Obenchain resumed the stand for cross-examination today when court was called in her trial for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy for an ordeal that was admittedly to decide the outcome of her case.

Determined to break down her story of her ill-fated romance with J. Belton Kennedy and her account of his murder by "two shabbily dressed men," she claims she saw fleeing from the scene of the slaying, Deputy District Attorney Asa Keyes began a test of every sentence of her testimony.

Keyes' aim was to smash the structure of Mrs. Obenchain's story in any one part, to undermine it so that it would come crashing down in a victory for the prosecution. It was obvious that both Keyes and Mrs. Obenchain realized that the outcome of the case depended almost entirely on whether her story was shaken or unshaken.

PLAN TO SHOW ALLEGED DUPLICITY IS FOILED.

The defense scored first in the cross-examination by Keyes when Superior Judge Reeve blocked Keyes' attempt to bring alleged duplicity on Mrs. Obenchain's part in accepting the attentions of J. Belton Kennedy while she was still the wife of "Steady Ralph" Obenchain.

Mrs. Obenchain said she first met Kennedy in 1915 when he was showing real estate to her mother. She said that their friendship developed rapidly and that within the first week he told her that he cared for her.

And reading over the wedding to marry Belton Kennedy," asked Keyes.

"Yes, we agreed August 31, 1919, to be married some time in the future," replied Mrs. Obenchain.

And all this time you were corresponding with Mr. Obenchain, were you not?" asked Keyes.

Judith Rush, chief defense counsel, immediately objected, and Judge Reeve sustained the objection, there being no line of testimony which Keyes sought to develop.

DEFENDANT SCOWLS DEFIANTLY AT ATTORNEY.

BY UNITED PRESS.

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Madalynne Obenchain looked direct and smilingly into the eyes of Asa B. Keyes, deputy district attorney, as he resumed the cross-examination today for the biggest battle in her trial for the murder of John Belton Kennedy.

Keyes was vitriolic in his first question:

"Did you not telephone John Belton Kennedy after you met him through Mrs. Parsons? Mrs. Parsons was a relative of yours, was she not?"

Mrs. Obenchain replied that she "couldn't say."

"How soon did you see him again after you met him?" asked Keyes.

Madalynne said it was within a few days.

Keyes failed in an attempt to get her to admit that her mother, Mrs. Emma Smart, invited young Kennedy to take her riding.

FROWN SUPPLANT MADALYNE'S SMILES.

The cross-examination proceeded. Madalynne's smile faded and she frowned defiantly at Keyes, when he demanded to know if she telephoned any letters to his home and to Kennedy's during the months immediately following their introduction.

She said the subject of love was first discussed between herself and Kennedy during the first year.

"He told me he cared for me, but there was another girl," she said.

"How often did you see Kennedy between August 31, 1918, and January 1, 1919?" asked Keyes.

She replied that she did not see him very often, because she was ill and Kennedy was in bed with influenza.

MARRIAGE TO KENNEDY BELIEVED IMPOSSIBLE.

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Under cross-examination today, Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain testified that she and J. Belton Kennedy, for whose murder she is on trial, were engaged for five months, but that the week before Christmas, 1918, she telephoned to Kennedy and broke the engagement. A week before her marriage to Ralph Obenchain.

The reason for breaking the engagement with Kennedy, she said, was that, in her opinion the home conditions of Kennedy made marriage impossible. She said she never met Kennedy until after the engagement was broken.

She said she and the family of Kennedy were friendly.

INDUCED BY KENNEDY TO LEAVE HUSBAND.

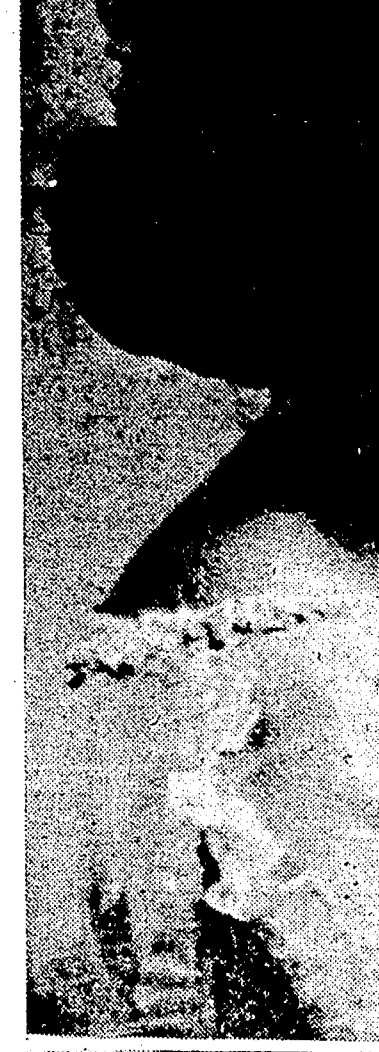

Phrases of two love letters from Mrs. Obenchain to Kennedy, read by the deputy district attorney, during the first year of the trial, were dated Feb. 4 and 13, 1919.

"My love, my life is yours! It won't be long before I can come to you," she replied.

DELAYS ON PACIFIC PACT ARE BLOCKED

Administration Leaders Insist Ratification Debate Proceed When Requests Made to Lay Aside 4-Power Treaty

'Irreconcilables' Await the Speech of Sen. Underwood in Support of Agreement; Johnson to Reply Monday

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Requests to lay aside temporarily the four-power Pacific treaty in the Senate today were blocked for the time being by administration leaders who insisted that the ratification debate continue and that the "irreconcilables" opposing the treaty present their case or else let voting begin on reservations.

The "irreconcilables" indicated that they were not anxious to keep up the active offensive they began yesterday, several of them saying they preferred to postpone further discussion until they had heard the speech in support of the treaty to be made tomorrow by Senator Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic leader.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, is expected to reply to him Monday.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Ratification of the Pacific pact will be the result if the final vote is taken by the Senate soon, a careful canvass today showed.

The situation, however, is so delicately balanced that little would be needed to upset calculations.

Voting on ratification is expected to start late next week.

The closeness of the vote was reported in some quarters as an approaching crisis to the treaty.

As things stand today, the Senate forces can reckon on thirty votes against. Thirty-three votes would defeat the treaty.

GO-ED SCORCHES SCHWIMLEY FACES MALE FLAPPER JAIL OR MARRIAGE

District Attorney's Office Announces Policy Toward Accused Youth.

BERKELEY, March 10.—True to her reputation as the California campus poetess, to take up arms against a sea of troubles and put some reverse English on the male flapper who criticizes his mate.

Now comes Miss Helen Dupeyre, a Berkeley student, who has written a poem called "Outflappered," in which she accuses the male flapper of "piping the flight" and "leading the girls to take to the more sparsely populated byways. She calls her effusion "Outflappered." It follows:

With readers of the printed page, The flapper news is all the rage. It's grown to be the public hope To get the truth on flapper dope.

So editors of so-called funny books The flapper news is all the rage. The men have had their literary fling. So list to the ballad that I sing:

Of all the flappers that are found The males of the species most abound. A male is one who throws a stone When a glass house is his home.

His glossy hair is thick with grease; His collar is low, his ties are loose; His tailored suit has a low-cut vest For a better display of his silk-clad chest.

From his pocket his hanky shows, Patent leathers pinch his toes; His handkerchiefs are low, his ties are crooked. His behavior fits the classiest mode.

He clutters our sidewalks to "pipe the flight," He steps with a different gait each night. He thinks she's a flapper and a Jane, But he's all style and not much brain.

These are facts—not wild theories. That the female of the species is outflappered by the male; And the truth is in this tale.

was read as one of her phrases in the letters. The prosecutor asked what she meant in writing that.

"I meant that Belton had induced me to leave Ralph," Mrs. Obenchain replied.

In response to questions she said that she had been in love with Kennedy at the time she married Obenchain.

SEPARATION DISCUSSED SOON AFTER WEDDING.

Discussions of separation from Obenchain were held with Kennedy shortly after her marriage to Obenchain, she testified. In June, 1919, Kennedy suggested that she obtain an annulment.

She was hesitant in her answers today, in striking comparison with the composure and facility with which she responded to her attorney yesterday.

One of the February letters was signed by Mrs. Obenchain "Your sweetheart wife." The prosecutor asked her what she meant by the phrase. She answered that it was meant as an endearing term, that she had never been married to Kennedy.

"DON'T LET CONVENTIONS DENY OUR HAPPINESS."

The prosecutor read from a letter dated May 14, 1919, from Mrs. Obenchain to Kennedy:

"Must we patiently sit and wait? No, Belton, no. Don't let the conventions of the earth deny our happiness."

"What did you mean by that?" the prosecutor asked.

"I meant that I never believed in divorce," she replied.

Mrs. Obenchain later was in Los Angeles and returned to Chicago Oct. 7, upon which date she sent the following telegram to Kennedy:

"Am certain will get annulment."

this month. Please come this month or sooner if you can."

She said that this meant that she expected Kennedy to come to Chicago to marry her. His answer was that he was seriously ill, she testified.

STORY OF MURDER PAINTERINGLY RECALLED.

Mrs. Obenchain, faltering and weeping on the witness stand, late yesterday told her story of the slaying of Kennedy. Two shots were fired at him from the dark in front of the summer cottage in lonely Beverly Glen, she said. Then two persons she could not identify flitted past her and disappeared. She and Kennedy went to the cottage at the latter's suggestion, she swore.

This was in direct contradiction of the State's theory of the case, that Mrs. Obenchain persuaded Kennedy to go to the Glen, and that by arrangement with her, Arthur C.

Burch, co-defendant in the case, lay in wait as they approached.

Between the shots, according to Mrs. Obenchain, Kennedy cried, "Good night, Muzzlyn," and that after the second explosion she found him lying lifeless on a flight of steps in front of the cottage.

The story of the shooting was the climax of an all-day examination of Mrs. Obenchain.

THRILL AFTER THRILL FOR CROWDED COURTROOM.

The crowded courtroom was given a thrill after thrill by the tale Mrs. Obenchain related of her love affair with Kennedy. She told of meeting him five years ago and of her subsequent acquaintance with him, which was interrupted for a brief period in January, 1919, when she married Ralph J. Obenchain. But where Kennedy lived, and that she consulted him about her troubles with Obenchain.

It was Mrs. Obenchain who suggested the hotel across from Kennedy's office to Burch, according to her testimony.

During the latter part of July, Mrs. Obenchain testified, she went riding on several occasions with Burch. In answer to the question whether she had ever taken him to Beverly Glen, where Kennedy was later slain, or had ever suggested the Glen to him, she answered "No."

HANDKERCHIEF WAVING FROM WINDOW EXPLAINED.

Kennedy, she testified, refused to believe there was anyone by the name of Burch, being under the impression that she was trying to hide the fact that her former husband, Ralph R. Obenchain, was in Los Angeles. She testified she told Kennedy such was not the case, but that Burch really was here and stopping in the hotel across the street from Kennedy's office. When she urged Kennedy to meet Burch at her hotel, she testified, he suggested that she first go across the street to Burch's room in the hotel and wave her handkerchief from his window, and that he would then meet her at the hotel entrance and go with her to meet Burch. She testified that she went across to the hotel, obtained the key to Burch's room, went upstairs and waved her handkerchief to Kennedy, who was in his office across the street.

STORY OF DAY ON WHICH KENNEDY SLAIN.

On August 5, the day on which Kennedy was killed, she testified that he called her early in the morning, and asked her to drive to the beach with him.

As her counsel's questions led her over every event of that day, she told of Burch calling on her in the afternoon. During their conversation, she testified that Burch told her he was planning to go East the next morning, and as he would be leaving early he would say good-bye to her. That was the last time she saw Burch, she said.

Kennedy called for her about 4 o'clock that afternoon, Mrs. Obenchain said. At his suggestion they drove to the beach, she said, attempting to find a certain spot where they had spent a happy afternoon together just before she left for Chicago to obtain her divorce.

She testified that they then started to town for dinner. On their way in they came to a road that led to Beverly Glen, where Kennedy's cottage was located.

"He asked me if I would like to run up the Glen a little way. As we came to his cottage he recalled the fact that I had hidden a lucky penny under a rock near the house, and said: 'Let's look for it.' I assented, but it was then quite dark. When we got up the stairs leading to the cottage I was unable to locate the exact rock. Belton said he would return to the car for matches, but I told him no. I was afraid to be left alone. 'Oh, I'll talk to you all the way going down,' he said."

"A VOICE—NOT BELTON'S—AND THEN A SHOT."

Mrs. Obenchain's voice broke here and tears came to her eyes. She hurriedly wiped them away with her handkerchief and continued: "Belton started down the steps, talking to me as he went. It was very dark. I then heard a voice—not Belton's. Then a shot. I tried to scream. 'Belton, what are you doing? Belton, please speak to me.' I called. 'I tried to move, but was shaking so I couldn't. Then I heard him cry, 'Good night, Muzzlyn.' He had no more than said the last word when another shot was fired. Then I heard something move beside me where I stood at the top of the steps. I turned and saw two men running through the brush."

She then started down the steps, she said, and when she came to Kennedy's body, she called, 'Belton, darling, please speak to me.'

"I touched Belton's hand, and it was so limp, I knew he was seriously hurt," she stated.

She then testified that she ran out to the roadway and stopped an approaching automobile, later learning that the driver was George Deering, who had been called as a witness by the prosecution. She told of returning to Kennedy's body with Deering, and of Deering's telling her that Kennedy was dead.

Her counsel then asked her if she loved Kennedy, and whether he loved her. She replied: "I did love Belton, and I believe he loved me."

"Did you have an agreement with Burch by which you were to bring about Kennedy's death?"

HEAVY QUAKE IN SOUTH; PIPE LINE BROKEN, OIL LOST

Tremor General in Southern California; Many Are Panic Stricken.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, March 10.—The oil pipe line of the Union Oil Company was broken in four places early today by a heavy earthquake shock. The quake also did heavy damage to the San Luis Obispo telephone system.

The breaks in the oil pipe lines occurred between the stations of Antelope and Shandon, east of San Luis Obispo. The pipe line carries oil a distance of between 100 and 200 miles from the San Joaquin valley oil fields to the refineries here.

As a result of the breaks pumping operations on the line had to be suspended. A considerable quantity of oil was lost.

It was believed some damage had been done in the oil fields although reports were fragmentary.

The quake was of considerable force here and awakened the entire town.

SHOCK IN LOS ANGELES. LOS ANGELES, March 10.—A light earthquake shock was felt here at 3:27 o'clock this morning. The tremor lasted but a few seconds and no damage was reported.

HANFORD, March 10.—For the first time since the earthquake of 1906, this part of the San Joaquin valley felt a lengthy, but not violent, earthquake shock at 3:30 this morning. The motion was slow and undulating. No damage was reported.

Earth tremors, varying from a slow swinging motion to somewhat violent motions which swayed buildings and rattled dishes, were felt in nearly every part of Kings county this morning.

At Kings river the shocks were bordering on the violent and Harwick, Grangeville, Armona, Lemoore and other districts near here report two distinct shocks, one at 2:40 a. m. and a final and more severe one at 3:25 a. m.

No damage was done but people were mildly panic-stricken, earthquakes being almost unknown in this vicinity. Telephone messages poured into Hanford asking for information, the belief prevailing that either the bay district or Southern California had been visited with a calamity.

BERKELEY, March 10.—An earthquake of moderate intensity was recorded at the University of California early this morning. The quake was first recorded on the University seismograph at 3:23 a. m. and continued until 3:53 a. m. Records stated that it was probably 250 miles to the west.

NO DAMAGE DONE. FRESNO, March 10.—An earthquake shock was felt here at 3:25 this morning, but no damage was done.

PORTERVILLE, March 10.—Residents here were awakened about 3:30 o'clock this morning by an earthquake which rattled windows, moved doors off their hinges and threw furniture around. People rushed into the streets, but no damage was reported.

VISALIA, March 10.—Visalia was shaken by a pronounced earthquake shock at approximately 3:15 a. m. today. Sleepers were awakened and windows and dishes rattled. No damage was reported.

BAKERSFIELD, March 10.—One of the heaviest earthquake tremors in years was felt at 3:33 this morning. Several business houses reported that their clocks, operated by telegraph, stopped near the 3:30 o'clock mark.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The earthquake which was felt on the Pacific coast early today was recorded as a tremor of "pronounced intensity" at Georgetown University seismological observatory.

Rev. Francis A. Tondorf, director of the observatory, said the tremor was first recorded at 6:40 o'clock and continued until 7:25 o'clock with the period of greatest intensity at 6:43 o'clock.

CHICAGO, March 10.—The seismograph of the United States Weather bureau early today recorded an earth tremor sharply pronounced at 5:37 a. m., lasting about three minutes. It was about 1200 miles southwest, probably in old Mexico, officials said. The first waves were recorded at 5:32 a. m. and ceased at 6:50.

Antigonish Ghost Is Wary, But Scientist Will Wait

CALEDONIA MILLS, N. S., March 10.—Apparently unimpressed at the stubbornness of the "Antigonish ghost," who thus far has refused to make his acquaintance, Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, New York scientist, and director of the American Institute of Scientific Research, declared somewhat testily "that he would stay on the job until he had found out something."

The statement, attributed to the doctor by Dan McGillicuddy, who lives near the Alex MacDonald home, reputed to be the home of the ghost, and the scene of its activities when twisting the tail of MacDonald's cattle.

Dr. Prince said he was working on the theory that he has a "poltergeist" to deal with. Poltergeist is German for "rattling spirit," being in scientific terms "phenomena attributed to the actions of a spirit."

Curiously enough, in most cases in which this type of phenomena has figured some person, usually a child, has appeared as an "agent" of the spirits.

WILL INTERVIEW GIRL. Dr. Prince has made no secret of his desire to interview closely Mary Ellen, 15, adopted daughter of the MacDonalds, who was present at the mysterious happenings which drove the family from its home in the dead of winter.

Mary Ellen, however, was not present in the house the night Harold Whidden, a Halifax reporter, and P. O. Carroll, a provincial detective, slept there and claimed to have been shaken by the mysterious one.

Whidden and Carroll had gone to the house after its evacuation by the MacDonalds, to investigate the strange tale. It was not until the second night of the stay in the report that led Dr. Prince to take up the investigation.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 10.—Dr. Prince is expected here today.

San Leandro May Revive Cherry Fete. SAN LEANDRO, March 10.—The cherry carnival, held in San Leandro in 1912, may be revived this year, according to plans of the Chamber of Commerce. At the meeting of the board of directors of the chamber last night, J. H. Begler was appointed head of a committee to visit various San Leandro business men to obtain their views of the plan of reviving the carnival to be held in June of this year.

According to Begler, many of the business men have expressed themselves in favor of the project. A report of the result of the interviews will be made at the next meeting.

Wife Charges Mate Caused Disturbance. BERKELEY, March 10.—Arthur Agnew, a limeman, 1529 Harmon street, appeared before Judge Robert Edgar today on a charge of disturbing the peace. The charge was preferred by his wife.

Mrs. Agnew recently filed suit for divorce. She stated that her husband had threatened to kill her.

Judge Edgar suspended judgment on condition that Agnew remain away from Mrs. Agnew, who lives at 3633 Grove street. When the judge informed him that he could not save by a court order, see Juanita, Mrs. Agnew's child by a former marriage, Agnew broke down and cried.

MYSTERY WOMAN, JAILED 52 YEARS, ENIGMAN DEATH

Number "88," or Mrs. Henrietta Robinson, Silent on Murder Charge.

In the Potter's Field, just outside the gloomy walls of the Asylum for the Criminally Insane at Matewan, N. Y., there is a headpiece which bears the number "88"—and back of this simple inscription is a story of identity concealed even in the face of the law's most determined efforts which makes fiction appear pale and commonplace by comparison.

All that is known of the early history of "Mrs. Henrietta Robinson," the palpably assumed name of the woman whose body rests beneath the numbered headstone at Matewan, is that she was of either English or Canadian origin and that she came to Troy, N. Y., in 1851, being always well supplied with funds from a source which remained concealed even during the rigid investigation which followed her arrest on the charge of murder.

COUPLE POISONED.

Some months after "Mrs. Robinson" settled in Troy, a strange and apparently inexplicable tragedy occurred. A merchant and a young woman who was living with his family dropped dead at table. A post-mortem examination showed that they had been poisoned, and despite the absence of motive, "Mrs. Robinson," who had been present, was arrested, but refused to say a word even to her lawyer.

To add to the air of mystery which surrounded the incident, the defendant insisted upon appearing in court, shrouded in a heavy black veil which effectively concealed her features. All during the trial she sat, impassive and unmoved, apparently taking not the slightest interest in the conduct of the proceedings. When the State had concluded its case, a comparatively flimsy structure of circumstantial evidence, the counsel for the defense, the presiding judge called attention to the fact that no one in the court had seen the defendant's face and requested "Mrs. Robinson" to lift her veil.

Slowly and with great dignity she arose, but made no effort to comply with the court's request.

"I am here," she stated, in a voice which penetrated to every corner of the crowded courtroom, "to undergo a most painful ordeal, not to be gazed at."

SILENCE PLEDGED.

The request was not repeated and, after a deliberation of several hours, the jury returned a verdict of "Guilty" and the prisoner was sentenced to death by a decree which was later commuted to life imprisonment by order of the Governor, though not before "Mrs. Robinson" had made her one formal statement in the shadow of the gallows:

"When I am dead," she declared, "all with die with me. I have promised to be silent, to die without betraying anything."

The first eighteen years of her life were passed in Sing Sing penitentiary. She was then moved to the Auburn State Prison for the Insane, where she remained for seven years, and finally to the Asylum for the Criminally Insane at Matewan, where the woman, dying, finally died on May 4, 1905, after fifty-two years in prison. During all this time, however, she never wrote a letter nor spoke a word, save to her lawyer who visited her at regular intervals and who advised that his services had been paid for by "certain influential personages" whom he was not at liberty to name.

ENIGMA IN DEATH.

All that was known of "Henrietta Robinson" was that she played the organ at Sing Sing with the touch of a master musician and that she died as she had lived—in silence, utter and absolute, leaving as a heritage some of the most puzzling questions in the history of criminal proceedings.

What was the woman's real name and where had she come from?

Had she poisoned the merchant and his young guest and, if so, with what motive?

Why had she insisted upon concealing her face during the trial?

If she were innocent, why did she refuse for more than half a century to make any plea for leniency?

What did she mean by her statement that she "had promised to be silent, to die without betraying anything?"

Who supplied the funds with which the lawyer was paid?

The answers to these and as many more unsolved riddles connected with this woman of mystery lie concealed beneath that simple headpiece in the Potter's Field at Matewan, a headstone bearing only the number "88."—Copyright by The Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate.

CORSETS FOR WORK WOMEN.

PARIS, March 10.—Wear corsets and keep your husband out of the clutches of the demon bootie, is the advice offered to working women by the Harbinger of Fashion de Rothschild.

"Here is my idea," she confided the other day. "I intend to found an organization for the free distribution of corsets to working women. Why does the worker desert his home for the corner grocery? Simply because his wife no longer has any attraction for him. She has become slovenly. Provide her with a corset. That will enable her to conserve her charm. Her husband will see that his wife's wages in the corner store will bring home the full envelope."

RESISTS FEDERAL CONTROL.

SANTA FE, N. M., March 10.—More than 60,000 square miles, comprising approximately one-half of New Mexico's area, might be converted into a game refuge and public shooting ground, under the control of the secretary of agriculture by the terms of senate bill No. 1452. This is the statement made by Gov. M. C. McMechen in a letter of protest sent to the governors of a dozen western states. Governor McMechen believes that federal control of the state's game and fish is not desirable.

TITLE MOVES EAST.

LONDON, March 10.—The death of a baronet the title changes for the second time since its creation in 1514—believed to be a record. The first baronet, Sir Thomas Watson, was killed by a motor car last May. His son, Sir Wilfred, has just died of "flu. The title passes to a brother, Geoffrey.

Story of Siberia Plots Suppressed by Japanese

By FREDERICK MCCORMICK,
Special Correspondent of The TRIB-UNE in the Far East.

TOKYO, Japan, Feb. 17.—No newspaper in Japan is permitted to print the texts in the exposures made through the American papers of Japan's Siberian intrigues and policy and her conspiracy against Americans there and against the recent Washington Conference. These exposures have been suppressed exactly as the twenty-one demands were suppressed seven years ago.

The Japanese general staff, holding conferences both at Vladivostok and Tokyo from the beginning of these exposures, ordered first, the suppression of publication throughout the Japanese Empire, second, denial of the authenticity of the documents exposed, and third, increased fulminations against the Americans, especially those in Siberia and Manchuria.

The proprietors of the Japan Chronicle, the most celebrated newspaper in the Japanese Empire, stated to me on February 14 at Kobe that publication by it of the texts of the documents would mean the deportation from Japan of the owner, Mr. Robert Young, and suspension of the paper. Mr. Young is the most powerful editor in East Asia.

REPRISALS STARTED.

Semi-official and official reprisals for the exposures were systematically commenced by the Japanese high military command at Vladivostok and its agencies in January. Notwithstanding that the burden of the exposures respecting Japan's Siberian conspiracy convicts Japan of a delinquent frame-up, invented and pushed forward in order to discredit Americans, especially those in official position, troops, and merchants, in consequence of the orders given by the general staff, the Eastern News Agency, Japanese concern, broadcasted throughout East Asia the semi-official report from Vladivostok that Major Clarke, the representative there of John F. Stevens and the Inter-Alleed Technical Board, was being deported. Later, as a result of further conferences respecting the loss of documents from the offices of the Japanese high command and the archives of the Merkuloff government from which I was making the exposures, the semi-official report was broadcasted respecting myself that "shrewd Russians had prepared counterfeit documents similar to those published by the Chita delegates which were promptly denied by the French and Japanese emissaries as humbugging forgeries."

The Japanese native press is entirely choked off. The Kokusai, Japan's semi-official news agency, has suppressed all reference to the exposures, while the foreign language semi-official press prints inspired diatribes in personal reprisal showing how Major General Tachibana's Siberian weapons are turned against myself.

After making a mendacious summary of what it calls the "exposures," without reference to the texts exposed, which it is forbidden to expose, it is powerless to print, the official Japan Times in Tokyo declares that the exposures, which the American press already had shown were confirmed by the American first hand evidences exposing Japan's plots which were invaluable especially to the Ministry of War and General Staff, second, that ranking Japanese, besides Russians had gutted the archives of Major General nese government, though obliged under the menace of suppression to confine its efforts to make public the truth, to editorializing.

Anticipating that the Japanese would lose their heads when the exposures in the American and China press occurred, and warned by the fate of the Englishman Mr. Shaw, who was imprisoned five months in Korea without being allowed to communicate with the British Consul, I returned from East Siberia by way of China, visiting only Kobe and Yokohama en route home.

Although the Japanese Ministry of War and Ministry of Foreign Affairs knew, first, that I was carrying on the S. S. "Bay State" more than seventy-five original texts, translations, depositions and other first hand evidences exposing Japan's plots which were invaluable especially to the Ministry of War and General Staff, second, that ranking Japanese, besides Russians had gutted the archives of Major General

Tachibana and his high command at Vladivostok, lifting secret communications with Merkuloff, and third, that I was avoiding Japanese territory, I visited Tokyo without molestation for the reason that police attentions paid to me would constitute, first, admission of the authenticity of the documents and texts which were being published everywhere outside of Japan, and second, loss of the originals from Vladivostok.

AMAZED AT CORRUPTION.

In foreign embassy circles in Tokyo, amazement was expressed to me at the corruption in high Japanese military ranks as proved by the leakage from the Japanese General Staff of the most secret information such as is contained in my exposures. Official foreign opinion there considers that the exposures will greatly strengthen the anti-military and disarmament elements.

This opinion holds that the exposures conclusively show that the American Consul at Vladivostok is responsible for our situation there. Merkuloff, so-called President of the Tachibana-Merkuloff regime, unable to restrain Japan, was misled first, in thinking that America was interested in Japan's use of Russian mercenaries paid by Tachibana, with funds in the guise of military expenditures merged into Japan's national budget, for warfare on the Soviet in Siberia; and second, he erred in inveigling the American consul into Tachibana's conspiracy against America and Americans whereby Japan and the Merkuloffs over-reached themselves in the outrage on Major Clarke.

The results of the exposure through the American and China press are that the Tachibana-Merkuloff partnership undoubtedly is shaken, since Habarovsk, which had been captured by it, has been retaken by the Siberians; the partnership military advance has relaxed its operations, and Tachibana has paused in his manipulation of the Merkuloff gang. Merkuloff has resigned as president of the Tachibana-Merkuloff regime, the dummy set up by Japan to control the South Siberian coast.

PREACHER ON STRIKE.

BLACKPOOL, Eng., March 10.—Rev. Adam Hamilton, pastor of the Alexandra road Congregational church, went on strike for a fortnight. In a letter to his parishioners he complained of empty pews at services. "There is something wrong either with me or with the congregation," he said. "I shall wait a fortnight for the parish to decide which."

FINE SENTENCES IMPOSED.

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Edmund Doty was today sentenced to five terms of from one to fifty years each in San Quentin penitentiary, after pleading guilty to five charges of highway robbery.

HARDING MAPS VISIT TO COAST

SANTA ANA, March 10.—President Harding will visit Southern California if he takes a proposed trip to Alaska this summer, according to a letter from him received here. The letter said in part: "I very much wish to go to Alaska this summer, because I am deeply concerned with the adoption of the correct policy for the development of that vast territory. Of course, such a trip would be attended by a visit to Coast cities. I would habitually include Santa Ana in my tour, because I have a sister residing there."

BONES OF FARMER FOUND IN PIGPEN

NEVADA CITY, March 10.—Scattered bones believed to be those of Joseph McLeod, aged 60, who lived alone on a ranch at Hunt's Hill, east of here, were discovered yesterday in his hog pasture. Apparently the body had been devoured. After the manner of soil-voured. McLeod was in the habit of checking off each day on a calendar, and the last check was February 10. Nothing was found to indicate the manner of death.

Crystal Skirtings

The Greatest Variety of New and Novel Fabrics Ever Shown in Any Store in Oakland

The Crystal Economy Skirt Plan is a newly evolved idea that has made an instantaneous hit all over the country. In a nutshell the plan is this:

The David Crystal Company of New York select the handsomest and newest skirtings as they appear from the different mills of America and Europe and cut skirt lengths from them which they put up in boxes and sell to one leading retailer in each community.

A variety of choice is thus obtained for customers that could not be obtained in any other way as merchants would not buy whole bolts of so many patterns.

More exclusiveness is obtained as your skirt cannot be duplicated a dozen times as it could if you bought from the bolt.

Every skirt length is patterned and arranged so that any woman can sew it up and have a skirt at a great saving over the ready-made cost.

These New Skirting Fabrics Are Now Having Their Premiere Showing in Our Dress Goods Section

The materials are prunellas, tweeds, serges, plaids, stripes and solid colors. Prices $2.95 to $10.50 each.

Iowa Folk Sick, Ask Pardon for Doctor in Jail

(By Associated Press)
OTTUMWA, Iowa, March 10.—With their only physician in jail and a prevalence of disease in the village, residents of Lockridge, Iowa, have stormed Jefferson county officials for a reprieve or something to get the doctor out. The physician is P. J. Shorlock. He is serving four weeks in jail after having been found guilty of intoxication. Dr. Shorlock's case probably will come before Governor Kendall in a day or two. The sheriff had no power to release the physician and called the governor on the long distance telephone. He was told the governor will act quickly upon an application for the physician's release if four county officials joined in the petition.

FEDERAL COURT ONLY CAN ORDER BOOZE RETURNED

Judge Dooling Holds That U.
S. Commissioner Has No Jurisdiction.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—A United States commissioner does not have the power to dispose of liquor or property seized in connection with violations of the national prohibition law, this power being vested only by an order issued by a United States district court, according to a written opinion prepared by District Judge Maurice Dooling.

An attorney representing a client charged with a violation of the prohibition law brought proceedings against the prohibition law enforcement director charging that the latter had declined to return liquor taken from the client after the client had been dismissed from trial by a United States commissioner for lack of evidence and after the commissioner had ordered that the liquor be returned.

Judge Dooling holds that the commissioner did not have the right to order the return of the liquor and dismissed the proceedings against the prohibition enforcement director.

Virginia Rappe Nurse Found by Arbuckle

CINCINNATI, O., March 10.—
Cincinnati has added a chapter to the case of Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, film comedian, who has twice been tried in San Francisco on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, photoplay actress. At the request of a representative of Arbuckle, Estelle Wyatt, colored, of this city, left here last night for Chicago to give her deposition.
Mrs. Wyatt is the widow of a preacher. It is alleged that she made a statement that twelve years ago she nursed Miss Rappe in a hospital on the South Side in Chicago. Mrs. Wyatt is reported to have said that Miss Rappe was deeply grateful to her for her services and up until five years ago frequently sent her presents to show her appreciation.

Motor Corps Organized to Aid Children

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Like the famous figure of nursery lore, the Juvenile Department of the Associated Charities "has so many children it doesn't know what to do." Three hundred and twenty-nine youngsters, boys and girls who are orphans, half-orphans or who come from broken homes where none is left to care for them, look to this small group of philanthropists for guardianship and direction. Foster mothers have taken the young wards into their homes, endeavoring to take the place of a loving parent.

None of the children may find in the monthly compensation of $17.50, a daily pint of milk and necessary clothing and medical care any adequate return for that which they bestow. But always there is the watchful eye of the Associated Charities upon the little army whose futures are being made secure. State and county aid, helped out by private assistance, is giving them a chance.

A motor corps has been organized under the children's department.
Mrs. F. L. Burckhalter in charge.
Women with cars have volunteered to place them at the disposal of the organization when it is necessary to take small patients from their homes to the public health clinics or busy hospital. A family of five little brothers and sisters received this service during the week, who otherwise would have been put to large inconvenience in obtaining medical service because of the difficulty of transportation. A few days earlier the corps was called upon to hurry three small patients to the Baby hospital. The volunteer drivers have been covered with a blanket insurance which protects them against accident. Any woman may assist in this section.

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO- MANGAN

It Is the Safe and Reliable Tonic Used by Physicians for 30 Years.

There are "new styles" even in medicines. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test of thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad." Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood.
Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood.
It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's department by the Social Service club, composed of Technical high school girls. A day each week is given by the young women to compiling the history of the clinic cases.

Gifts of clothing have been made to the department within the past few days by the Guild in Piedmont interdenominational church, Oakland high school and Park Boulevard club. A Pablosa hospital nurse interested in the children who must find their parents in the community, has given up her spare hours to fashioning dainty bedwear, a large stock of which she has placed with the department for distribution.

The project of giving to the army of children two weeks in the mountains is under consideration by the organization. Dr. Susan Fenton is chairman of the department dealing with the children.

The annual spring luncheon of the Hill and Valley club has been arranged for Monday, April 3, when the fruit and early blossoms will be at perfection in Hayward. Special guests are being invited from among the club leaders of the Eastbay cities.

The nursery in which Emerson Parent-Teacher Association is vitally interested, benefited from the luncheon which was given at the school today under the auspices of the cooking class and domestic science instructor. Among the sponsors of the project who have labored most industriously in its behalf are Mrs. F. North, Mrs. R. Deady, Mrs.
H. J. Triesdale, Mrs. C. M. Wardell and Mrs. F. C. Erke.

Mrs. Wardell is taking over the presidency of the active organization. Associated with her on the board of directors recently elected are: Vice-president, Mrs. Erke; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Dee; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. J. Fulcher; financial secretary, Mrs. L.
Havel; treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Morse; historian, Mrs. R. W. Kraus; auditor, Mrs. A. S. Reinking; parla-mentarian, Blanch Steadman, delegates to the federation. Mrs. Truesdale and Mrs. W. J. Sanford.

Miss Elizabeth Skeele, executive secretary, Oakland Associated Charities; Mrs. Robert Spunn, executive secretary of the Alameda City
Social Service Board; Judge Jacob
Harder, Jr., president of Hayward
Health Center executive committee; Mrs. W. T. Knightly, president of Hayward Charities, and a representative from the State Board of Charities and Corrections, will be speakers before Hayward Civic Center on Tuesday. "The Health Center and Financial Relief," a recognized rural problem, will be discussed. Mrs. L.
M. Turner, president, will preside as chairman.

When Oakland Technical Parent-Teacher Association meets on Monday in the Broadway school, the members will have presented to them the regular ticket upon which they will later vote for officers and directors. The important business of the day will be contained in special reports, which are being eagerly anticipated by the leaders.

Mrs. Ella E. Newsom will open her Lake avenue home on Monday to the members and guests of the Hill club, of which she is president.
A program of music, readings and current events is being arranged.

Senator Carr Tells Of Japanese Influx
There are more than 100,000 Japanese in California, and the increase is stupendous, according to State Senator Frank M. Carr, who discussed the Japanese legislative problem last night before the members of the Bay View Improvement club at I. D. E. S. hall, Thirty-second and Union streets.

Senator Carr declared that the people of California are not going to remain quiet in the face of the evident failure of the "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan to keep out Japanese immigrants and that national legislation to prevent a further influx of picture brides will be insisted upon during the next year.

The Japanese in California are not only a menace to agriculture, declared Carr, but their inroad on business and industry in the large cities is already making itself felt. In Sacramento, the Senator stated, the entire lower end of the city is already in the hands of Japanese and their low prices, made possible by lower standards of living and moral conditions, make competition by white merchants an impossibility.

Commissioner Albert E. Carter, head of the Oakland department of public works, addressed the meeting on the subject of harbor development. Carter told of the work accomplished by his department along the estuary and western waterfront during the past year, and predicted that, if the present percentage of growth is maintained, Oakland will in a few years be one of the leading seaports of the Pacific coast.

The entire six models shown in "Vogue" are from our selections for our new Spring displays, which interestingly demonstrates the fact that J. C. Penney Co.'s styles are authoritatively new and up-to-date. All our garments are presented almost simultaneously with their introduction to fashionable New York.

THE APPROACH of Spring is strongly hinted by the trim, smart, new Hats being shown by the J. C. Penney Company millinery section. There's an adorable gathering of the coming season's newest trimmed and street shapes and sport styles, colors that are more and more favored, soft braids, flexible straws, stylish, fetching and appropriate for all occasions.

While each model reflects the styles to be seen in the high-priced millinery shops of New York, our prices are surprisingly low. This again signifies the ability of the J. C. Penney Company to present at the opening of the season, millinery that is rich, daintily colorful and fashionable at prices that are within the reach of all.

Your early inspection is advised so that you can have the advantage of selection while our showing is complete.

JAPANESE LAND RIGHTS UPHELD BY YUBA JUDGE

Minor Children Held Rightful Owners of Farm State Tries to Seize.

MARYSVILLE, March 10.—Held that the real property in Sutter county, bought by Jusuke Shingu from G. L. and Mary Douglas should not escheat to the state of California and that the defendant, Jusuke Shingu, a Japanese, has the right to purchase the property for his two minor children, S. Shingu and K. Shingu, who are native born American citizens. Superior Judge E. P. McDaniel yesterday rendered judgment in favor of the defendant and against the state of California. The two children were also named as defendants in the complaint.

The suit was first brought in the superior court of Sutter county, that being the county in which the property involved is situated and in which the defendants reside, but was transferred to Yuba county superior court for trial.

STATE'S CONTENTION. The suit was brought by the attorney general of the state of California, who contended that the real estate described in the complaint has escheated to the state and asked that the property be ordered sold in conformity with the code of civil procedure and the proceeds paid into the state treasury.

The principal allegations in the complaint were that the defendant, Jusuke Shingu, was and is now a Japanese person, a native citizen and subject of the empire of Japan and not eligible to citizenship under the laws of the United States; that on April 12, 1919, one G. L. Douglas and Mary Douglas, his wife, owners of certain property in Sutter county, conveyed by deed this property, by direction of the defendant, Jusuke Shingu, the names of the defendants, S. Shingu and K. Shingu, were written as grantees; that the purchase price was $3500, paid by Defendant Jusuke Shingu to the Douglases, and that by virtue of said deed Jusuke Shingu became the owner of the property.

PURPOSE ATTACKED. It was contended that the sole purpose of Jusuke Shingu in having the names of the defendants, S. Shingu and K. Shingu, his minor children, written into the deed as the grantees, was to violate and avoid the provision of the act of the legislature of California relating to the rights, powers and disabilities of aliens with respect to property. It was contended that the defendant, Jusuke Shingu, entered into the possession of the property and has continued in actual possession of the same.

It was alleged by the state that the negotiations for the property were concluded and the first payment therefor made while one of his children was yet unborn.

The court held that the negotiations were not concluded while one of the children was yet unborn and that both of the children were alive upon the conclusion of the transaction. The court further held that these children, being infants and unable to contract for themselves, are fully protected by the laws of California and that the law will guard their property rights and the father cannot alienate the property in any way.

In early Rome gold rings were worn only by the Senators as a badge of their high rank.

Rockfall in Chico Is 'Heavy'; Source Is Undetermined

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
CHICO, March 10.—Small boys, officers, neighbors and newspapermen have been unable to clear up mysterious periodic showers of rocks on a warehouse at Sixth and Orange streets here, and J. W. Charge, owner of the warehouse, has offered a $200 reward to the person who will reveal to him the source of the rockfall. The showers have been recurrent in the last three weeks, he said.

Marshall J. A. Peck says that the deluge baffles him.

The officer called in an unofficial committee of investigation, including several newspapermen, yesterday, and while they were examining the dented corrugated iron roof a shower of large, smooth rocks fell. Members of the committee who had remained on the sidewalk declared the rocks fell from the clouds.

Every small boy in the neighborhood has been questioned, Marshall Peck stated, and none has thrown up any light on the question.

ROBBER SUSPECT FREE ONE DAY

MIAMI, Fla., March 10.—J. D. Myers, local real estate dealer, wanted in Salt Lake City, Utah, as Milton D. Joseph, for the alleged robbery in 1914 of securities worth $54,000 from the Continental National Bank of that city, was re-arrested today and was held pending a habeas corpus proceeding.

Myers was released from jail yesterday on a surety bond of $5000, but two hours later a telegram was received at the sheriff's office from the governor advising that he had signed extradition papers and ordering the re-arrest.

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out.

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Menthosulphur and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

Tombstone Fashions*Change, Say Dealers

CHICAGO, March 10.—Styles in tombstones change as well as gayer fashions, and even the short history of America has witnessed profound changes in what dealers in monuments like to call memorial art. The slate slabs, surmounted by round cherub faces or grimly grinning skulls, crudely carved, while still mark the graves of the Pilgrim old-ers in Granary burying ground at Boston, the cemetery at Plymouth, and in other old New England graveyards, are in austere contrast to the lofty obelisks and huge sarcophagi of the last century which are seen in more pretentious cemeteries. Tombstones of today are of neither type, according to H. C. Whitaker of the Monumental News, Madison, Wis.

Tombstones erected between 1850 and 1875, Mr. Whitaker says, were imposing in size, but whatever dignity they had was often marred by the ridiculous verses inscribed on them. Such verses are no longer in vogue, remarks Mr. Whitaker, who adds that the taste developed in recent years discards pretentious stones in favor of small tombstones of exact proportions and plain lettering.

"SOAP AND SUDS" PEERS.

LONDON, March 10.—The list of peerages recently announced was immediately christened the "Soap and Suds" list because King George conferred titles upon a prominent soap manufacturer and a distiller.

NINE COMMUNITIES OF EASTBAY SEEK WATER OWNERSHIP

trilled by the municipality is a prime factor in the rapid development of that city. The modern industry demands a large supply of water and the city which is able to provide that supply is the one selected as the location of the industry. We are familiar with that fact from our own experience.

At this time I do not stand committed to any source of supply, but I am firmly of the opinion that some supply must be developed by the municipality. The Eastbay Water Company is in business primarily for the purpose of selling water at a price which will return a profit upon the capital invested. With this company, the first question is that of return upon investment and the development of the city follows rather than leads their policy.

"As a private corporation the water company is not in a position to pioneer. They can bring water to our city only from the viewpoint of an investment. For these reasons, therefore, I consider it essential that a municipal utility district be formed looking to the development of an adequate water supply for the Eastbay cities.

"This district may have to pioneer, but its primary concern will be bringing in cheap water from a source of supply which will be adequate for the next century, and which we can feel will insure the development of Oakland and the Eastbay community through an abundant supply of cheap water."

Fix Examination for Drugless Doctors

The board of medical examiners today announced from Sacramento that a special examination for chiropractors, sanitarists and other drugless practitioners will be held in Los Angeles on April 11, open to all applicants who can fulfill the requirements of the law, i. e., 1—A California high school education or its equivalent; (2) 2000 hours professional education completed in 64 weeks (just one-half the education required of a medical graduate); (3) a diploma from a legally chartered school teaching the above course; (4) certificate of good moral character.

The subjects of examination are elementary as specified in the law governing the practice of the healing art in this state.

Subsequent to this special meeting announced for April 11, a regular meeting of the board will be held in Native Sons' hall, San Francisco, June 26-28, when examination will again be offered the qualified.

HOODED HORSEMAN OF KERN COUNTY SHOT IN BATTLE

Armed Oil Worker Routs Big Band of Night Riders in Raid on Home.

BY UNITED PRESS

TAFT, Calif., March 10.—Joe Burnett, oil worker, today reported to the authorities that he had repulsed a band of hooded "night riders" in a gun battle when they attempted to force entrance to his home.

One of the would-be raiders was believed to have been wounded.

The battle lasted for a half hour, Burnett said.

A. M. Keene, publisher of the Midway Driller here, turned over to investigators the following letter, received during the night:

We note the so-called K. K. K. letter, published in your paper this date (March 9). We beg to advise you and all others that receive letters which are supposed to come from us that unless they are written upon this letterhead, they are not genuine. There are no finger prints on this letter, which you may turn over to "Lottie" Pyles or the Fresno Schreuch. It was not signed.

(Signed): TAFT KLAN, NO. 3.

Received of California. The letter referred to in the above missive returned Keene and his employees not to send further reports of "night riders" activities to outside newspapers or news agencies. It was not written on the letterhead of the Ku Klux Klan.

THREATS IN COALINGA.

FRESNO, March 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—First appearance in Coalinga of what is believed to be a branch of the Ku Klux Klan, was indicated by receipt of two letters by men prominent in Coalinga during the past two days, each signed by the well-known letters, "K. K. K."

The letters, one sent to the superintendent of an oil company, and the other sent to a citizen of Coalinga are both written in the same hand and worded similarly.

An organizer of the Ku Klux Klan has been in Coalinga frequently of late, and it is believed to be certain that a unit of the organization exists there.

The superintendent of the oil company has threatened to shoot any person connected with the Klan or any person that possesses records of that organization who approaches him.

The letters both warned the recipients to "mend their ways and beware."

"KNIGHTS" IN NORTH.

EVERETT, Wash., March 10.—(By International News Service.)—Five "knights" of the Ku Klux Klan, robed and hooded, entered the First Baptist church here last night while service were in progress. They strode down the aisle to where Rev. F. W. Swift was conducting revival services, handed him a sealed envelope and stalked out.

The envelope contained a roll of hills and a letter commending the divine and his work.

"Immoral conditions run wild in our city, and the civic authorities must clean up or get out," the letter said.

Arrest on Check Charge Denounced

E. G. Campbell, arrested on a charge of passing a worthless check on A. T. Gillette several weeks ago, was ordered released from custody by Superior Judge George Samuels, who declared the evidence showed Campbell had no intention of defrauding Gillette. He presented the check when he received it, and Campbell received the check, drawn on the College National Bank of Berkeley for $5, from W. K. Ephraim.

Ephraim, at the time he gave Campbell the check, declared his bank balance was low but undoubtedly sufficient to cover the check. When Gillette telephoned the bank, check he was cashed and the balance was but $3.50. He had Campbell arrested. Judge Samuels declared Campbell was entirely innocent of any wrong doing and his arrest had been an injustice.

French Cabinet to Play Football

PARIS, March 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gaston Vidal, a member of the Poincare Cabinet as under-secretary of state for physical education, will don football togs tomorrow and play full back on a rugby team composed of veterans, against one of the best Paris teams. M. Vidal was formerly an international Rugby player. He is 35 years old and weighs 220 pounds.

SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Edna May Eberlein of Oakland was today made defendant in a divorce suit filed by R. H. Eberlein, who charges his wife with withdrawing all the money in their joint account and fled from Sacramento with another man, taking with her their year-old son, Eiden LeRoy.

Mammoth Skeleton Found in Ukraine

MOSCOW, March 10.—The official Russian press bureau announces the discovery in the Ukraine of a complete skeleton of a mammoth and other relics of prehistoric ages. It adds that only one other complete skeleton of a mammoth is known to exist. It was discovered in 1843.

APPEALS TO FARMERS.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 10.—Governor Cameron Morrison has issued a call for "food and feed" community meetings throughout North Carolina. Declaring too much attention has been given the staples, cotton and tobacco, Morrison said the coming of the boll weevil had made diversification imperative. Xeriscen urged the raising of more swine and poultry, and where possible beef, to make the average Tar Heel farmer more independent of markets on the outside. Farm demonstration agents everywhere will instruct farmers in poultrying and gardening.

TEMPERATURE OF GIRL GOES TO 114 DEGREES

BRISTOL, Eng., March 10.—The extraordinary figure of 114 degrees Fahrenheit was the recorded temperature of a girl here, who was suffering from the grip.

When first summoned to see the girl the physician said he was astonished to find that his clinical thermometer recorded a temperature of 112 degrees but, thinking the thermometer was out of order, he requisitioned two others only to find that they both recorded the same high point.

During the night the patient's temperature advanced two degrees. Appropriate treatment was at once applied, the girl's temperature gradually subsided to normal or thereabouts, and she is now stated to be in perfect health.

Medical journals here do not record an instance of such temperature being followed by the patient's recovery.

Germans Row Over Oath of Allegiance

BERLIN, March 10.—Public officials in some of the federated German states have refused to take the oath of allegiance to the republican constitution on the ground they owed allegiance only to their own state.

The point of law evoked lively discussion, particularly in Bavaria, where respect for the present German regime is not very deeply grounded. Legal suits were brought in two cases for reinstatement of the officials whose offices had been declared vacant on account of their non-constitutional attitude.

One court ruled the oath was unnecessary but a higher court reversed the decision.

"MOTHER OF HER PEOPLE."

CAIRO, March 10.—The wife of Zamilul Asha, deported leader of the Egyptian Nationalists, refused to follow him into exile, but declared she would remain to be a mother to her people.

DEATH LURKS IN STREET, CORONER WARNS PARENTS

Official Urges Youngsters Be Kept From Playing in Path of Autos.

"Watch your step," rapid growth in the number of traffic accidents, fatal and otherwise, with three children killed in a single week, today called for this admonition from Coroner Grant D. Miller. Mothers and teachers are particularly appealed to by the coroner to instill into the minds of their charges the danger of playing in the streets. "Last week," said Coroner Miller today, "we conducted three inquests to determine the circumstances surrounding the deaths of as many little boys who had been killed in the streets by automobiles and in every case the jury brought in a verdict absolving from responsibility the drivers of the machines. This would tend to show that in the opinion of the average person, the streets are designed for the carrying of traffic and not for play places for children. "Certain eastern cities, where crowded conditions obtain have set aside streets in each district where children are allowed to play and these streets are carefully patrolled. Traffic operates under stringent restrictions and as a result fatal accidents are not common. "There is no occasion for such legislation here. The people have provided playgrounds in plenty for the children. Then there are many vacant lots in almost every section of the city where the children are welcome to hold their games. There is no excuse for children playing in the streets and as long as the practice continues, just that long will there be accidents."

Prohibition Officers Are Guilty of Bribery
MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 10.—Thomas A. Delaney, former prohibition director, and Joseph H. Ray, prohibition inspector, today were found guilty on two indictments charging conspiracy to violate the Volstead act and bribery. The jury had been unable to agree up to a late hour last night and were locked up. The verdict was returned on the opening of court this morning.

SPRING HIKERS REVISE PLANS
To look at Martha her roommate knew that she was weeping and wailing inwardly. Something must have happened and Martha's roommate wanted to help. "Oh," said Martha disconsolately. "I am crushed with sorrow. What do you think I did while you were away over Sunday? I went over to San Francisco and started out on the beach for a walk with Louise and it was such a lovely day. I decided to hike around Land's End. We climbed over wet rocks and over muddy paths and got wet and messy. And I simply ruined my one and only suit that I planned to use for good for ages. The skirt was too narrow and I ripped it jumping from a rock. What shall I do?" "Well, you silly thing! The next time you and Louise go hiking you had better wear some old clothes. But now since you have ruined the best suit you own, I would advise you to visit Cherry's at 515 13th street and get something stunning for dress up. You know you can buy on credit there and you can practically arrange for your own payments. Not much down, you know, and the remainder on easy terms." Cherry's store for men is at 528 13th street. And there are just a few of those $10 overcoats left.

War Mothers Back Demand for Bonus

War Mothers throughout the United States are also called upon by the local women to express themselves publicly in the matter of adjusted compensation and to instruct their respective legislators according to their own desire.

RADIO MAN WHO SCOFFED DEATH WAS NOTED WAG

NEW ORLEANS, March 10.—The wireless operator on the Norwegian steamship Grontoft who flashed the S. O. S. calls punctuated with grim passages of wit as the vessel sank during a mid-Atlantic hurricane a week ago, is believed to have been identified at the Norwegian vice-consulate's office here today as John Frantzen, a 26-year-old Norwegian. The operator's messages were recorded on the radio log of the Danish steamer Estonia, which went to the assistance of the Grontoft, but found no trace of her.

The Grontoft sailed from here February 9 with a crew of 24 men bound for Esbjerg and Denmark with a cargo of grain. All members of the crew were Scandinavians. L. J. Gjertsen, secretary to the Norwegian vice-consul here, said he remembered the radio operator well. Frantzen was described as a "happy-go-lucky sort of a fellow."

Latest "Slayer" of Taylor Is Sought

Police are investigating today the authorship of the letter found in an unsealed envelope on the writing desk of the St. Mark hotel yesterday, purporting to have been written by the man who murdered William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, in Los Angeles. The letter was found by a man who gave his name as R. H. Desmond and his address as the hotel. The police later ascertained that no such person was registered at the hotel. The letter, addressed to Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney of Los Angeles, set forth that Taylor was murdered by the writer at his own behest. The writer said in the letter that Taylor had made a pact with him to end his life when he had achieved a certain degree of prominence in the motion picture world. The letter was forwarded to Woolwine to add to his collection of 300 confessions.

Nephews Bequeathed Berkeley Man's Estate

The will of A. W. Clark, Berkeley capitalist, who died March 5, 1922, was filed for probate with County Clerk George Gross today. It disposes of property estimated to be worth $100,000. Supervisor Redmond C. Staats is attorney for the estate. Clark's will provides no legacy for his wife, Catherine Martin Clark, merely saying other provisions had been made for her. The bulk of the estate goes to the children of Clark's deceased brother, James M. Clark, who are Arthur W. Clark, Ida Willey, Ada Shellabarger, Hannah Overland, James Clark, Mitchell Clark and Rose Denham. Marjorie Clark, daughter of Clark's deceased nephew, Ray Clark, is given $2000, and $500 is left his half-sister, Ada Kelly of Freedom, Maine. Mrs. Margaret K. Cutter, wife of E. A. Cutter, is bequeathed $5000.

LIVE PLESIOSAUR YARN IS SCOFFED AT BY SCIENTISTS

Potency of Patagonia Liquor Mentioned As Probable, Clew to "Discovery."

AMHERST, Mass., March 10.—(By the Associated Press).—If any of the plesiosaurian monsters are still alive in Patagonia their forefathers must have had a busy time wiping out their tracks and chewing up their skeletons for the last ten million years, asserted Professor P. B. Loomis last night. Professor Loomis, who is geologist at Amherst college, was commenting upon the reported discovery of a live plesiosaur in Patagonia. He is only one of the two American scientists who have explored that region for fossils. He said no trace of a skeleton of the plesiosaur had been found and that there was no chance of the survival of the species to date. What was seen, he thought, was a water snake, probably an anaconda.

Professor Loomis conducted for Amherst college the last skeleton hunting expedition by American scientists to Patagonia in 1911. Although he talked with many traders and travelers to the lake region where the discovery was reported, he never heard a hint of the existence of the plesiosaur. Loomis said that the discovery of the plesiosaur in Patagonia, and one of them sent by Princeton in 1906 covered the identical territory from which the discovery had been reported. New York scientists who attributed the discovery to the potency of Patagonian liquor may not be far wrong, Professor Loomis suggested. He asserted that the best liquor on earth was to be found there even before the days of prohibition in the United States.

BAY DISTRICT IS CALLED IDEAL FOR FILM INDUSTRIES

Could Save 15 Per Cent by Making Pictures Here, Says Hobart Bosworth.

Motion pictures can be made fully fifteen per cent cheaper, and just as efficiently, in the San Francisco bay region as in Los Angeles, Hobart Bosworth, noted film actor and director of the Pacific Studios at San Mateo, told the members of the San Francisco Downtown Association at the Hotel St. Francis yesterday. Bosworth described how Los Angeles producers and actors have come to San Francisco bay for waterfront scenes, bay vistas, windjammers and shooting of all kinds, and for real Metropolitan scenery. He said: "Your country here has another great advantage—it is not clogged with ubiquitous palm trees like Los Angeles and environs. During the time that I lived and worked in Los Angeles these palm trees were the bane of our existence. Frequently, when we were on the point of 'shooting' a New England scene, one of these palm trees would bob up in the picture. Imagine a New England landscape with palm trees! Bosworth stated that this is the psychological moment to bring the motion picture industry to the San Francisco bay district. This transfer, he claimed, would mean the annual expenditure by the motion picture industry in San Francisco, Oakland and other bay cities, of at least $20,000,000. Bosworth emphasized the fact that the motion picture industry has now become the fourth largest industry of the United States.

WIDE ADVERTISING.
Bosworth also discussed the world-wide advertising that has come to Los Angeles as a direct result of the motion picture industry. He said: "Your country around here would be benefited to the same incalculable extent by the motion picture industry. The business men of your cities should aid in bringing the industry here, and help in financing such undertakings. Bosworth deplored the fact that some financiers, when asked to finance motion pictures, replied by mentioning the Arbuckle and Taylor cases, and declared: "We will not touch the dirty motion picture business." Such an attitude, he said, was manifestly unfair and based on fallacious reasoning.

CLEAN PICTURES PRAISED.
Regarding both the pure, clean picture and the salacious "movie," Bosworth said: "It has always been a consolation to me to know that the clean picture has a long, wholesome life, whereas the career of the salacious production is very limited. The clean picture goes first to the theaters in the big city, where it often plays to poor houses—for which the big city public is to blame. But then it goes to the small towns, where the public wants only clean pictures, and thus it has a long and useful life, swinging throughout the entire United States. But after a few riotous, crowded nights in the big city, the salacious picture dies a natural death, and disappears from circulation."

In reply to a question, Bosworth stated that there is less fog in the San Francisco Peninsula and adjoining territory than in Los Angeles, and that the motion picture photographers obtain better exposures here.

JUDGE SEWELL ENTERS SUPREME COURT CONTEST

Sonoma County Jurist Says He Will Enter Race Against Incumbent.

With an announcement which is calculated to put some spirit in the primary contests for places on the State Supreme Court bench, Judge Emmett Sewell of Sonoma county today entered the race.

"I am a candidate for place on the supreme court of this state," Judge Sewell says. "In due time I will make a statement of my position. This announcement is made early because of the preconcerted action of certain interests to commit all members of the bar of this state for the re-election of the present supreme bench by securing pre-election pledges. The method adopted, by which it is hoped to discourage opposition candidates, will be fully exploited before the August primaries. The fight will be carried to the people themselves, who ought to have the opportunity to express themselves on important matters in which they are the real parties in interest."

Judge Sewell served as presiding judge in the San Francisco superior court in the trial of Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of Thomas J. Mooney, for alleged participation in the Preparedness Day bomb outrages of 1915. He has served in Los Angeles as presiding judge of the superior court and by appointment of the governor as extra judge on both the appellate and supreme bench of the state.

MEXICAN VOWS LOVE FOR U. S. GIRL PUBLICLY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Passengers who arrived here yesterday from South American and Mexican coast ports on the liner Venezuela, told how one of their number, Miss Gladys Norman, of Oak Park, Ill., had been proposed to publicly by Don Felipe y Gonzales, governor of Manzanillo.

Miss Norman and some friends were inspecting buildings and other spots of interest when they encountered Don Gonzales. According to fellow-passengers, the governor appeared to be smitten immediately and emphatically by Miss Norman's charms, and a short time later, in a public plaza, went down on his knees and asked her to be the first lady of Manzanillo.

Miss Norman gracefully declined the honor, but said that through correspondence she and Don Gonzales might become good friends.

PUTS FLOWERS ON HUSBAND'S GRAVE IN FRANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Mrs. James Stacey Slosson is home here today from a trip made to the grave at St. Enille, France, which holds the body of her husband, Captain James S. Slosson, of San Francisco, who was killed in action in 1918, when he led his men against the advance of the Hindenburg line.

Mrs. Slosson went abroad about two years ago, the objective of her trip being a visit to her husband's grave, so she could see for herself where his body reposed and put flowers on the cross marking the grave.

She returned from her pilgrimage yesterday on the liner Venezuela.

Inquest Arranged For Taxi Driver

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—An inquest is being arranged today to look into the death last night of Joseph P. Bradshaw, 1385 Green street, employed as a taxi driver, who was killed at Market and Alvin streets when he drove his vehicle into a beam protruding from several timbers. A passenger, McKie Donnan, who was riding on the rear seat of the machine, escaped injury by dodging to one side when the end of the beam crashed through the front and windshield.

A red lantern is said to have been displayed on the end of the beam, but the belief is expressed that Brad-

HORSE THIEF IS NOW EXTINCT, DETECTIVES SAY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Not one single horse thief remains in any of the Western States once made famous, on infamous, by their activities, according to the National Horse Thief Detective Association, which is to hold a convention at Logansport, Ind., next October.

M. A. Peck, chief of the bureau of solicitation of the Southern Pacific company, offered special rates to delegates to the convention who would represent Western States. Not one solitary delegate answered the call, according to Peck, who expressed the belief it was because the horse thief has become as extinct as the dodo. He blames the automobile for the decreasing use of horses and the consequent disappearance of the picturesque horse thief.

Three Arrested in Martinez Hotel Raid

MARTINEZ, March 10.—Led by District Attorney A. B. Tinning and Sheriff R. R. Veale, a raid was made on the Engel hotel at Bay Point last night by ten officers, and two men and a woman were arrested. The posse seized a small barrel, two jugs and a dozen bottles of liquor. Those arrested were Frank Condas, the proprietor; Spiras Furness and Elsie May Walsh, roomers, who were charged with being inmates of a disorderly house. The district attorney has already filed suit against Adolpo Engel, the owner, on a charge of violating the red light abatement law.

STUDENTS GIVEN SHARP WARNING ON MISCONDUCT

Disorders and Intoxication Will Cause Suspension at University.

BERKELEY, March 10.—Promising immediate suspension from college to men attending future campus affairs and acting in a disorderly or drunken manner, the student affairs committee and the senior class at the university today issued a statement reaffirming the "gentleman's code of conduct." As a result of numerous reports of disorder caused by intoxicated students at the Prytanian fete last Saturday night, the committee has declared itself prepared to combat future troubles.

In a statement issued by the undergraduate student affairs committee, of which F. W. Tenney is chairman and W. W. Edmonds secretary, the following warning is given to students:

"Because of improprieties in connection with the Prytanian fete last Saturday night, at which some members of the university so far forgot their duty as members of the college community as to appear in a disorderly and intoxicated condition, the committee desires to express to the campus the following: That the undergraduate student affairs committee goes on record as denouncing in strongest terms the actions of the students concerned and reaffirms publicly the unwritten rule and law of common decency which forbids gentlemen to appear intoxicated at a gathering on the campus with women present. As to future action in regard to such matters, the committee warns that students found disorderly at campus functions will be suspended from the university by recommendation to the president. His support of this measure has already been guaranteed."

"The danger to the good name of the university and, code of true Californians which we desire to uphold makes necessary the above warning."

At a senior meeting held last night in senior hall, demands were made for drastic action, and the affairs committee was called upon to suspend the offenders whose names were turned in for the Prytanian fete.

The fear of retroactive rulings has caused the committee members to hesitate in taking strenuous measures at this time. It is said, and the statement they have issued is to serve as a warning for the future. Fifty-one names are said to have been secured by campus police officers, but only a few of these will be heard before the student court. It is rumored on the campus that the names of many prominent upper classmen are included in the lists secured, and also that President David P. Barrows has left the decisions in all cases to the student officers.

BUREAU SYSTEM, WAR DECLARED PROGRESS FOES

John O. Davis, Former Revenue Collector, Urges Economy to Ease Burden.

Abolition of war and the bureau system of government administration was urged by John O. Davis, former collector of customs, San Francisco, before the Business and Professional Women's club yesterday. California contributes $200,000,000 annually to federal support, according to the speaker, who discussed "Taxation in Its Relation to Government Business." "Every effort should be made to support the government in any attempt toward permanent peace. The recent Washington conference was a step in that direction. If a conference can decide upon a limitation of armaments it could also decide upon an abolition of armaments. Any Democrat who makes of the pact a matter of party politics is failing in his duty to his country," Davis declared. Illustrating the extravagances of the bureau system, Davis cited the entry of a ship into port. He told how the health inspector went out to meet it in a $40,000 boat with a crew of eighteen men. Abolition of such a system would result in a definite reduction in federal taxation, the speaker urged.

TRIBUNE WIRELESS CORNER

YOSEMITE, Calif., March 10.—Commercial wireless telephone and telegraph service is planned for Yosemite Valley, where conditions, resulting from the valley being a "hole in the ground," were said by many wireless experts to be against successful operation of a radio station. Yosemite's granite cliffs rise straight into the air for 3000 feet and the radio waves are reflected on the floor of the valley recently has been getting news reports, weather predictions, market quotations and plenty of good music. Two of the best radio stations on the valley floor serve as relays.

Government authorities have put in a station which will be used to keep the valley in touch with the outside world. The valley station also will talk with another station on Glacier Point, one of the park's show places, which is 3254 feet sheer above the floor.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Allocation of twenty wave lengths among the various classes of wireless telephony and telegraphy, and government control of establishment of all commercial wireless transmitting telephone stations are recommended by the three committees of the government radio conference, made public today. The recommendations do not provide for government control of receiving stations, which Secretary Hoover has said have increased into the hundreds of thousands in the last few months. Amateur transmitting stations, under the committee's proposals, would be given exclusive use of wave lengths from 150 to 200 meters and share with technical and training schools wave lengths of from 200 to 275 meters. Other recommendations are that wave lengths below 6000 meters should in a general way be reserved for "radio telephone service, but that those wave lengths which have become fixed in service for telegraph service within this range, such as S. O. S. signals, shall be retained."

The committees further urge that the time periods assigned to the different transmitting stations for the various services be placed under the control of the commerce department and also that the radio telephone be accorded the status of a public utility. The recommendations, it was announced, have been transmitted to interested organizations and companies for consideration, and the full conference will meet again in two or three weeks to formulate its final report. The present development of wireless telephony, the committees find, warrants the reservation of twenty wave bands. The committees recommended that priority first be given broadcasting service and that broadcasting be divided into priorities in this relation.

Government, educational and public, private broadcasting including entertainment, news, etc., and finally toll broadcasting. In addition to the wave lengths of 150 and 275 meters for the amateurs, additional wave lengths might be assigned to them for some opportunity in experimental work. The amateurs, under the recommendations, would arrange between themselves as to the division of their wave bands between different varieties of amateur work. The wave allocations follow: Transoceanic radio telephone experiments, non-exclusive, 6000 to 5000 meters; fixed service radio telephony, non-exclusive, 3300 to 2850; mobile service, non-exclusive, 2650 to 2500; government broadcasting, non-exclusive, 2050 to 1850; fixed station, non-exclusive, 1650 to 1550; aircraft radio telephone and telegraphy, exclusive, 1550 to 1500; government and public broadcasting, exclusive, 1500 to 1350; radio beacons, exclusive, 1050 to 950; aircraft radio telephony and telegraphy, exclusive, 950 to 850; radio compass, exclusive, 850 to 750; government and public broadcasting, 700 miles inland, 750 to 700; mobile radio telephony, non-exclusive, 750 to 650; mobile radio telephony, exclusive, 650 to 325; aircraft radio telephony and telegraphy, exclusive, 325 to 300; private and toll broadcasting, exclusive, 435 to 310; restricted special amateur radio telegraphy, non-exclusive, 310; city and state public safety broadcasting, exclusive, 275 to 275; technical and training schools shared with amateurs, 275 to 200; amateur, exclusive, 150 to 200, and shared with technical and training schools, 200 to 275, and reserved below 150.

A famous medical man of ancient times regarding his writings that they were but a collection of knowledge obtained from the "Wise Women." Do you realize that in those times the women, and not the men, knew about the healing properties of medicinal plants, roots and herbs? From the earliest times, women had a knowledge of the treatment of disease and of the healing merit of roots and herbs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was originated by a woman, Lydia E. It is prepared from roots and herbs having medicinal action of great value in the treatment of troubles women so often have. —Advertisement.

(Written Especially for the United Press.)

(Copyright, 1922 by United Press.)
DUBLIN, CASTLE, DUBLIN, March 10.—After centuries of struggle, St. Patrick's day, 1922, will see an Irish government taking over control of all Irish affairs.
During the long war for independence the American people were unstinting in their support of Ireland and now on the eve of our national feast—a greater feast this year than ever before in our history—we thank the American people for their help and sympathy.
A friendship has been built up between Ireland and America which will endure. We assure our friends that with God's help the new Ireland will justify the faith they have always shown.

This is my message through the United Press to the American people and to the friends of Ireland all over the world, as St. Patrick's day approaches.

FOR VITAL REALITY.
To realize what the establishment of the new Irish government signifies it must be realized that Ireland, in fighting for freedom, fought not only for an ideal, but for a very vital reality.

Freedom for Ireland was not a luxury, but a necessity. The history of foreign government in Ireland is one long story of warfare and tyranny, of impoverishment and depopulation and of national decay.

Ireland is not by nature poor, but during the last century her wealth has flowed steadily into English coffers.
Emigration followed inevitably upon this export of human beings and of wealth and that national decay was assisted by a foreign government which knew nothing and cared nothing for Irish needs. To put an end to that foreign control was for Ireland an urgent necessity. It is now ended and an Irish government takes over the work of undoing the harm which has been done and of building up the Irish nation.

GREATEST IN HISTORY.
DUBLIN, March 10.—Michael Collins, in a message through the United Press today, proclaimed St. Patrick's day, 1922, the greatest in Irish history.

Collins called on Irishmen and Irish sympathizers throughout the world to celebrate on a greater scale than ever before as the holiday finds Ireland setting up a government of its own and shaking off foreign domination which has caused national decay.

Plans are being made for great patriotic demonstrations in Ireland and a world-wide response to Collins' suggestion of making it the greatest Irish celebration in history is expected.

Collins' message, as handed to the United Press, was signed in Gaelic, Micheal O'Collaen.

ARSENAL RAZED.
QUEBEC, March 9.—For the second time in nine days, fire last night attacked the dominion arsenal, destroying shops employing 200 workmen and doing damage estimated at $500,000. On March 1 fire in the cartridge factory, a branch of the arsenal, destroyed 1,000,000 rounds of small ammunition, but did not spread to tons of high explosive stored nearby.

FAMOUS BEAUTY'S TRAGEDY.
LONDON, March 10.—Miss Edith Horley, once the most noted beauty of English society, was found shot to death in her home here. She recently had suffered heavy financial losses.

THIEF IMPRISONS HOTEL CLERK AND FLEES WITH CASH

Employee Forced Up in Elevator While Bandit Loots S. F. Hostelry.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Imprisoning the night clerk in the elevator a bandit, believed to have been accompanied by two accomplices, who stood right outside, robbed the cash register of the Hotel Gordon, 112 Seventh street, at 3 o'clock this morning. Fred Thorne, the clerk, was alone in the place when the robber appeared, pointed a pistol at him and forced him into the elevator.

"Run that car up to the top and come down slow if you know what's good for you," he said.

Before making the ascent Thorne noticed two men loitering outside. He was afraid not to obey the command of the bandit and when he reached the lobby a few minutes later discovered that the cash register had been rifled of $67 in silver and currency.

Lenine Threatens New Terror Reign

MOSCOW, March 10.—Russia is going into the Genoa conference to lay the foundations for "big business," according to Nicolai Lenine, in an address to the metal workers here.

"Russia welcomes participation in the Genoa conference," said Lenine. "We are going there in the position of traders beginning to do business. But we know there are great future potentialities."

"It must be admitted that the economic policy of Russia has been changed. But this change will not permit us to submit to insults from the 'white' armies of the foreign capitalists."

"We crushed the previous attacks with a reign of terror, and if the capitalist powers attempt to prevent us from carrying out our plans we will be able to do the same thing again."

Lenine admitted that the change constituted a "retreat" from the original policy of the soviet.

STANFORD TEAMS OPEN DRIVE FOR BIG ENDOWMENT

Bay District Campaigners at Work to Raise "The First Million."

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—A luncheon meeting of team leaders and members of Stanford university alumni was held at the St. Francis hotel here today as a preliminary move in what is to be a national campaign to obtain an endowment of $3,000,000 for the university.

The drive was launched formally at a mass meeting of Stanford alumni at the Hotel St. Francis yesterday when campaign teams and captains were appointed to raise the $250,000, San Francisco's quota in the endowment. Yesterday was the anniversary of Founders' Day.

Those behind the drive have adopted the slogan, "The First Million for Stanford."

The two speakers at yesterday's meeting, Charles K. Field, class of '95, and Professor Charles A. Huston, dean of the school of law, outlined the progress made by the university and expressed confidence that the spirit of loyalty of its alumni will make certain the creation of the endowment. The program included sections by the university's double quartet and Harry Robertson.

EX-KAISER IS MADE POOR BY DROP IN MARKS

How the ex-Kaiser sets up an almost pathetic whine over the fact that his German marks are worth but little when translated into the "guilders" of Holland, his land of exile, is told by Hugo Amberg, of Dusseldorf, Germany, who is at the Hotel St. Francis, en route to Tokyo.

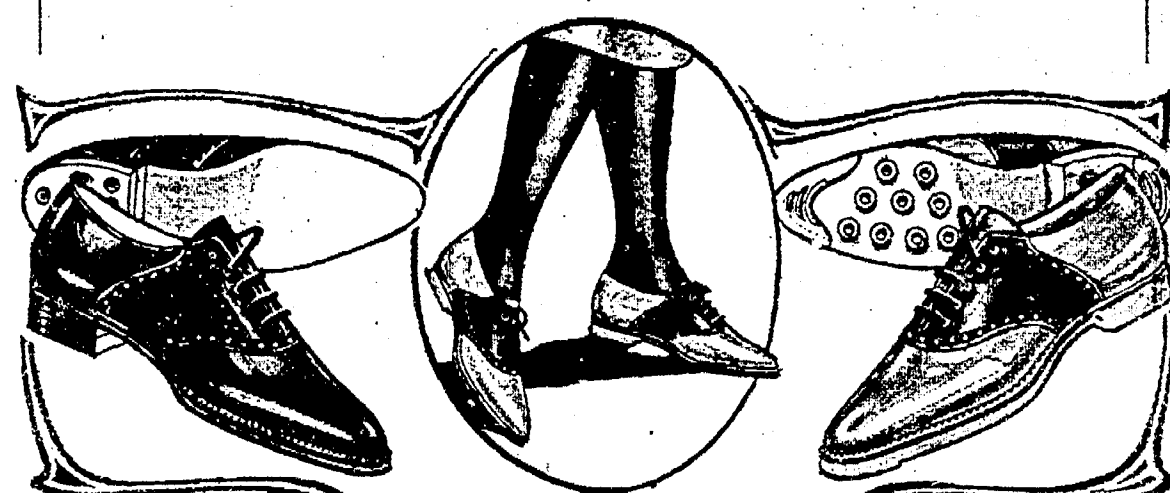

Amberg relates that the Kaiser has recently, in reply to letters from German war sufferers asking for financial aid, replied that he is a "poor man" and that he cannot possibly afford to spend any money on charitable works. The fallen monarch particularly blames the rate of exchange and the expense of living in Holland for this.

Amberg will represent an American motion picture corporation in Tokyo. He states that motion picture production has reached a high degree of perfection in Germany, and believes that German pictures rank with the best American productions.

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—A verdict of $1 damages was awarded by a federal jury to the Asiana Cheese company of Chicago, which sued the Caladere Products company of Atascadero for $18,000, alleged to be due on a contract calling for the delivery of 6000 tons of dehydrated infandel grapes.

Once again Gundlach's are setting the pace with the hit of the season. Here is your opportunity to be among the first to wear these new sport or so-called golf oxfords and at the popular price of $8.50. There are many distinct models to choose from—so finely made that you will display them with pride—all are well sewed—rubber compo soles with rubber heels, or leather soles with leather heels. Oxfords that combine style, comfort and wearing qualities that are unusual. See the special window display.

SEVEN CHINESE JAILED IN RAID FOR TONG KILLER

Famous Leader of Fighting Hip Sing Tong Charged With Plot.

SAN JOSE, March 10.—Jew Shuck, most famous of all San Jose Orientals, and leader of the Hip Sing Tong here for many years, today is in the Santa Cruz county jail facing a charge of murder. Incidentally his local friends, Chinese and whites, are wondering whether the vaunted "charn" that has protected the Oriental leader during the years of his turbulent career has disappeared.

Six other Chinese are also under arrest on murder charges.

Jew Shuck was taken into custody by a posse of officers late yesterday afternoon at the Hip Sing headquarters in the local Chinatown, specifically charged with the murder in Watsonville on the night of February 21 of Ah Lum, wealthy Oriental of that city.

The local leader is alleged to have been responsible for the killing of Ah Lum through the offer of money for his slaying. He is said to have directed the murder, for which Albert Munoz and Frank Vaccarella, two white youths of this city, are awaiting trial in Santa Cruz at present.

Jew Shuck was nabbed on a warrant sworn to by Sheriff Howard V. Trafton of Santa Cruz, who has conducted a vigorous investigation into the slaying. Trafton is confident concerning information in his hands, but it was freely rumored here today that his action against Jew Shuck follows a confession on the part of Munoz.

Jew Shuck had been in hiding for some time, but apparently had believed the danger of his arrest over. He was taken into custody by Officer Frank Rafferty, who held him pending the arrival in the Hip Sing headquarters of Sheriff Trafton. Sheriff George W. Lyle of this county, Chief of Police J. N. Black and other police officers and deputy sheriffs.

The Hip Sing leader was this morning removed to the county jail at Santa Cruz, having spent the night in the city jail here. Jew Shuck's many friends could do nothing for him, there being no bail in murder cases.

Later last night six more Orientals of this city, all younger members of the Hip Sing Tong, were caught in a police dragnet spread about the Chinatown district by the posse headed by Sheriff Trafton, Sheriff George W. Lyle and Chief of Police Black.

Wong Sing, who with Jew Shuck is directly charged with the murder against whom witnesses are presenting evidence is said to be held by the Santa Cruz authorities, was among those taken, the others being Ng Nom, Lee Bon, Jim Wai, Lim Chin and King Fook. All of the Chinese range in age from 25 to 29 years.

Each was booked at the city jail here on a charge of murder, en route to Santa Cruz, where they were taken this morning. The local Chinatown was in a state of confusion today as the result of the series of wholesale arrests. It was the first time in the history of the local police department that so many arrests were booked for murder on one day.

The arrest took place when Southern Pacific Officer Finerman observed Chen Wai negotiating a deal with Conley in the rear of the depot here. Finerman in turn notified police headquarters and two officers immediately went to the scene, taking the men into custody.

When arrested, according to Chief of Police J. N. Black, Chen Wai had three large cellophane cases filled with opium in his possession. He was the most taken from one peddler here in some time, police say.

NEAR RIOT ENDS ELECTION DEBATE

MODESTO, March 10.—The first open debate on the issue whether the city at the coming election shall give the fair grounds site, the municipal athletic field and the aviation landing field to the junior college for a site nearly resulted in an open fist fight.

W. C. Le Hane of Berkeley and Modesto, owner near the site of fifty-two acres, made charges that caused A. J. Carlson, the city attorney, to call him a liar. Carlson advanced on Le Hane but chose to lambast him verbally.

Mayor Ulrich and several attorneys took part in the debate, which was bitter throughout. Le Hane stated the city council is unfair in denouncing the Chamber of Commerce as dealing with trivial matters, accused the board of education with procrastination, and the Fair Grounds Association intended to knife the aviation field and finally centered on the city attorney.

When Carlson unlimbered against Le Hane the meeting was quickly adjourned and Le Hane left the hall.

EASTERN DEMAND FOR PRUNES SENDS MARKET PRICE UP

Spot Stock Exhausted; Job- bers Ask for Replacement of Stock From Assn.

SAN JOSE, March 10.—The market for California prunes continues to grow stronger with each passing week, according to a statement issued to THE TRIBUNE today by the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, thus bringing a new spirit of prosperity into the ranks of California growers.

The statement of the association, issued this morning, is as follows:

"The New York prune market steadily increased in strength throughout February, and at the first of this month there was a much stronger condition than at any time since the first shipments of 1921 crop prunes were sent forward last fall.

"At the beginning of the month New York buyers were confining most purchases to spot stocks available at that time to purchase spot prunes at reduced quotations from those being handled by the coast packers.

"During the last week of February the New York prune market showed a marked increase in strength, and prices for spot prunes gradually rose to a level with the prices at which coast stocks were being held. This was probably caused by the fact that constant buying of spot stocks had exhausted the supply and jobbers and wholesalers who still held spot stocks were holding for a higher price.

"Jobbers and wholesalers were buying much more freely at the end of the month and replacing their stocks than earlier in the month.

"With several good selling months ahead, New York jobbers and wholesalers at the end of February, who did not have sufficient stocks on hand to take care of the normal demand which could be expected during this period, were practically forced to come into the market and replenish their stocks at the prevailing prices, as all signs pointed to a steadily increasing rise in the prune market throughout the spring months.

"The California Prune and Apricot Growers' association withdrew all its quotations on the New York market the last week of February with the announcement that it could not make additional sales until it had taken stock of its holdings on the coast and were able to clear up its fruit it would be possible for it to pack out.

"According to coast reports, calls are coming in for stocks from all parts of the country, and buyers are anxious to obtain any stocks available to tide them over between the present time and next fall, when the first shipments of 1922 crop prunes will be available. Many purchases have been made from coast operators for future shipments during March and April, according to latest advices from California operators.

"The management of the California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., has announced that it does not intend to withhold stocks of the 1921 crop prunes from the market, but will be obtaining higher prices at a later date, as the association is interested principally in obtaining as quick a clean-up as possible of 1921 crop prunes so as to clear up its stock of the present association, which will be reorganized into the new California Prune and Apricot Growers' association after the clean-up.

by Todah McGlone Gibson

Virginia Fairfax, daughter of the first families of Virginia, rebels against the puritanical rule of her grandfather and, tired of a life of seclusion, runs away to become a motion picture actress. Arriving in Los Angeles, she meets Gloria Summers, who is in the business. They become warm friends, Gloria—Rita to her friends—takes Virginia to work in the movies. "At the Service Bureau," says Herbert Richardson, a wealthy young man who has been interested in Gloria, Virginia regains her old life. Richardson tells her the story of her life and the story of her friends. Richardson and the ring he gave her.

Gloria's Jewellery.

"Why, Gloria, are you engaged to Herbert Richardson?" I questioned as she took off the beautiful diamond ring and slipped it on my finger.

"I pulled it off quickly. Some way it seemed to sear my hand—and yet I was very curious to know all about it."

It was a gorgeous affair of platinum with one big diamond in the center, and a setting of small diamonds.

"Then you are engaged to Herbert Richardson?" I repeated.

"If I am, he doesn't know it," she answered bitterly.

"But he gave you this ring." I choked a little over the assertion. For a moment I wondered, if Herbert Richardson really did give it to her.

"Yes, he gave it to me all right along with other pieces of jewelry which I'll show you. I really have to thank that foolish old woman, though, for for some reason I would never have thought of giving me a ring otherwise. He didn't want to wear a ring she had given him. Then, after making me a present of it, it was very easy for him to buy me more jewelry."

"Gloria! Are you telling me that Herbert Richardson gave you jewelry that had been given him by another woman?"

"You heard me truly, Virginia." Gloria jumped up from the chair in which she was sitting and brought down from the dresser a magnificent brooch set with diamonds, and three or four more rings.

"I should think you would be afraid to keep them here. Are you sure no one will try to steal them?"

I fingered the jewels, watching the light play upon them. Never had I handled so many beautiful things in my life.

"Aren't they lovely?" she exclaimed as she took them one by one and held them up for me to admire again.

"They must be worth a great deal of money. Rita, I think Herbert Richardson gave them all to you?"

"Yes, he gave every one of them to me."

"But you are not engaged to him? You should not have accepted it then, unless you were prepared to marry him."

At this, Gloria sat down abruptly and commenced to laugh.

"Oh, dear, my dear, when will you get over your old-fashioned notions? Virginia, in our world costly presents are made to men, and the quietest of them in the world are the quietest that accrue to pretty girls."

"But I don't understand, Gloria."

"You will before you have been on your own long."

"Does every girl who earns her own living accept presents like these from men who are merely good friends?"

"Perhaps not all of them, but I would like to see the girl in my position who has longest dreamed for jewels like these refuse them when offered to her by a man like Herbert Richardson. Before you have been earning your own living long in this business you will know that there is a game of wits that is played out here between men of more money than principle and girls who have more calculation than money."

"It's an old, old game, Virginia—this game where men show you the things you want most and whisper they can be yours for the asking. The Bible tells of Satan taking the Divine One up into the mountains and showing Him the kingdoms of the earth. He, being divine, was able to withstand the great temptation. But what of you and me, Virginia? We're just poor little human mites—as good looking and just as smart as the girls who spend money like water for everything their hearts desire. But we must not want them, they are not for us."

"Why not take some of the good things that these foolish men will buy you?"

"But sometimes, Gloria, you will have to pay."

"I wonder if we will? Personally, I think I have paid. Virginia, have you ever read that story called 'The Salamander'? It describes a girl who plays with fire and always escapes being burned."

"Men will offer you beautiful jewels and sometimes even wonderful clothes, and if you're clever you'll take them all. It is a part of the game, my dear, a part of the game."

"Oh, I could not, Gloria; I could not."

"Why not? The man who gives them to you understands that it is a game, and he does not always play it according to rule either. He pits his wits against yours. He is gambling just as you are. And according to all tradition, men like the game of life even better than its reward."

"But remember, my dear, if the man wins, you start to lose something you can never regain—your own self-respect—and if you win, you only gain a few baubles that the man has probably forgotten all about the next day."

"Tomorrow—in the Movie World."

Jones Not Candidate For Attorney-General

SAN JOSE, March 10.—State Senator Herbert C. Jones of this city, named in press despatches from Sacramento Thursday as a possible candidate for attorney-general against the incumbent, U. S. Webb, today denied emphatically that he is considering such a step.

"I am not considering it," said the report of his death that was greatly exaggerated," declared Jones this morning. "Who concedes all these dreams, I'd like to know. It is very funny. And if you see attorney-general Webb tell him there is nothing to it. Absolutely nothing."

Jones declared that he has no political ambitions and that his only desire is to serve out his present term as state senator in a manner satisfactory to his constituents. He declared that it is doubtful whether or not he will be a candidate to succeed him as senator at the end of his term.

Sheriff George W. Lyle expressed the belief today that the return of Mrs. Fairman to her home at 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon frightened the burglar away.

Every drawer in the house had been pulled out to the floor and contents scattered about, while all closets in the house had been hauled forth and strewn on the floor. A deposit box had been carried from the bedroom and apparently dropped on the parlor floor at the sound of Mrs. Fairman's door. Deputy Sheriff Raymond and De Temple investigated the case.

ENGINEER'S SUIT THREAT ANSWERED

MARTINEZ, March 10.—Former City Engineer W. S. Farley will have to submit data on costs of plans he has prepared to the board of trustees before action can be taken on claims totaling $38,000 submitted by the engineer and claimed by him to be due to him as engineering fees. Such was the tenor of a letter sent to the engineer today by City Attorney A. F. Bray.

Board members have gone over Farley's claims and have attempted to come to a conclusion as to what his claims rightfully total but lack of data on costs of preparation of plans and specifications, it is said, is holding off a decision.

The engineer claims he is entitled to some $38,000 as per contract. The estimated cost of piling in districts yet unopened and for which he drew plans, while the board claims his plans have not been used and under his contract he is entitled to but one-third of the cost of the work.

Members of the board have fixed $1000 as the largest amount due the engineer.

Monday the board received a letter from Farley in which he demands $38,000. The suit would be instituted.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, March 10.—That this is the most ideally located district in California for the poultry industry and that this district should make a rival and even surpass the famous Petaluma country as a poultry raising center was the opinion expressed today by M. J. Madison, of the Prune and Apple Growers' Association. Madison declared that from point of view of transportation and location with regard to market this district is unequalled.

"Furthermore," he said, "the poultry industry is the one agricultural pursuit which can be carried on on small acreage. Therefore this district, ideally located as a suburb of the great city of San Francisco, is the best place for poultry raisers in this business. We have the climate, we have the land, and we are so situated that the market is accessible economically and quickly."

When asked if Petaluma did not have a distinct advantage in original costs because of the lower price of land there Madison said that while at present this may be the case he believed that the matter could be overcome. He said that scientific poultry raising is just beginning to discover the art of using the advantage of good land for chicken raising and that in his belief the greater fertility in soil here will increase land prices also results in increased profits.

Madison argued that much work must be done before the industry here can rival Petaluma, but said that he is certain that such will be the case. "It is the coming poultry center of the state," he said. "I am certain of that."

HOME CAMPAIGN OPENS.
HAYWARD, March 10.—Elaborate plans for "Build Your Own Home" campaign are being made here by the Hayward Real Estate Board, which is working in conjunction with the California Real Estate Association in an attempt to stimulate construction of homes according to H. R. Robinson, president of the board. Robinson declares that the construction of homes will not only be of material assistance to Hayward's growth, but will also alleviate the ever-existing situation which he says exists here.

The active campaign, Robinson said, will start March 13. A local committee will be named to arrange for street cleaning, water and public works. Robinson says that the state association is urging that business men be asked to take up the move and that concerted action be taken by all citizens.

"Having great opportunity," Robinson said, "will come as a city of homes. We may secure not only the overflow from Oakland, but from San Francisco as well, once transportation is arranged as I believe firmly it soon will be. There is one thing I believe certain. Land values here will not deteriorate. The construction of a home will not only be a saving from rent, but an investment."

WILL RUN DOWN VOTERS.
HAYWARD, March 10.—With only today to go to secure registration of voters for participation in the annual election of the city of April 10, special deputies have been sworn in to secure 900 voters unregistered here and whose presence has just been officially discovered. It was announced today. Existence of such a large number of unregistered voters is accounted for by local registrars as the result of the rapid growth in population of the district since the 1920 census.

It is said that there are 18,000 possible voters in this district. According to the former official account registration was, on Saturday, only 300 short of complete. An investigation of the registrars' records, however, has revealed the large number of unregistered voters at a late hour yesterday.

RULES BUSINESS MEN TO PROTEST TELEPHONE RATES

Excessive Long Distance Toll Charges to Niles Probed by C. of C. Members.

NILES, March 10.—Resolutions will be adopted at the next meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce asking that the telephone toll rates to Niles be adjusted on a more equitable basis as compared with other communities in the bay section. It was said today by Chamber of Commerce officials.

A report of the business men of Niles was brought to the attention of the citizens that the telephone toll rates are as high from Oakland to Niles as they are from Oakland to Martinez, although Martinez is located farther from Oakland than is Niles.

It is believed, say Chamber of Commerce officials, that this condition exists as the result of an oversight on the part of the company and the matter will be called to the attention of the telephone company officials in the hope of reaching a new basis of toll rates.

The street runs diagonally through the residential section and there are comparatively few abutting property owners. The former plan was to have the water and sewer in side streets bear part of the expense. When that failed a new district was formed composed only of property owners on the avenue.

DAUGHTER, WHITE SLAVERS' VICTIM, SAYS N. Y. MAN

Girl Traced to Ferry Station, Lost Again, Is Tale Told Police.

Charles Organ, who says he once was an importer and exporter of New York City, was in Oakland today on a quest for his missing daughter Miriam, 22, which, he says, has carried him through the highways and byways of the continent and brought him to suffering, ill-treatment and despair.

The daughter, according to Organ, disappeared from her home in New York City fourteen months ago. He said she is in the hands of white slavers and that she had been kept so constantly under the influence of drugs and liquors that she has been unable to extend even the most feeble aid to the father in his desperate efforts to obtain possession of her.

Four times, Organ said, he has traced his daughter to premises where she had been placed by her alleged "masters," but each time has failed to obtain the girl, either because he has been kept off by her captors or because she was spirited away before Organ could obtain police aid.

Once, he said, he encountered her on the street in San Francisco, but she was so drugged she did not recognize him and when he sought to rescue her he was beaten severely by the girl's three male companions. Today while maintaining a weary vigil at the Ferry building the father asserts he saw his daughter and three men board a boat for Oakland. Before he could follow the gates were closed and the father was compelled to follow on the next boat.

According to Organ, his daughter came under the sinister influence of a woman while in New York and ran away with her. Later she was rescued from a middle western city that she would not return.

A short time later Organ's wife died after pleading him never to seek her. Organ said that he has had her in his possession. Organ said that time never has ceased his endeavors. He lost two sons who were killed in action during the war and suffered financial reverses when his two ships were torpedoed by German submarines.

"Everything has conspired against me so far," he said today, "but the time will come when I again will locate the girl and get police aid to force she is spirited away, and then I will be happy."

Beast Poisons Babe; Boasts His Revenge

Returning from the grocery, Mrs. Klepper found the doors of the home open and the child in spasms on the floor. Pinned to the baby's dress was a note reading in capital letters: "A REVENGE."

No motive for the act could be suggested by either parent. The child's condition today was somewhat improved.

Bartlett, Cullinan Debate Proposed Water Power Act

Eustace Cullinan, president of the Greater California League, and Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley debated the proposed constitutional amendment which would create a state water and power commission, before the Oakland Center, California Civic League of Women Voters, in Alhambra Temple this afternoon. On a number of points the speakers were at direct issue, the Alameda rate and situation being described from opposite views. Cullinan maintained that similar experiments elsewhere had proved successful and failure, that the law would open the way to politics controlling water, and that it would enable any smaller political division to tap into the supply designed for the larger city. Mayor Bartlett argued that success had crowned the other efforts in the direction, that lower rates would result, and that the state would not be put to as great an expense as has been claimed.

Mayor Bartlett
"In the early days of the United States our cities were small and sparsely settled and there was no need of water works. In the year 1800 there were only 16, all privately owned."

"During the war and after it was the practically unanimous experience of municipally owned water supplies that the rates remained stationary, in spite of the rising cost of almost everything else. It was also the practically unanimous experience that privately owned companies raised their rates during the same period."

"We find equally interesting facts if we investigate the generation and distribution of power. The city of Alameda buys its power from one of the companies that distributes power to almost everything else in the state and distributes power to the people of Alameda at from 20 to 25 per cent less than is being paid by the customers of the same company here in Oakland. In the city of Palo Alto, which has had municipal ownership for some time, power is sold for about 7 cents, as against 20 cents when the power was sold by a private company. In the city of Los Angeles, where the power is sold for about two-thirds of what we pay, and industries cannot come to Oakland or Berkeley in competition with Los Angeles with its cheap power and cheap water."

"I have heard it said, as it has been said and repeated over and over, ad nauseam, that the California Water and Power Act will plaster the state with a debt of $500,000,000. But will it? In the published statement issued by the opponents of this act, it is declared that the capitalization of the power companies of the state amounts to $600,000,000. The interest on this capitalization is taken care of by the revenue earned by the companies and that is exactly what will happen under the California Water and Power Act. Bonds will be issued only to take care of an anticipated project, in no event in greater sums than $500,000,000 in the aggregate, and will be repaid, principal and interest, out of the rates collected for water and power."

"Someone may ask how it is possible for rates to be reduced under municipal ownership. There are several answers to this question. Under the private plan money for additional projects, for example, must be borrowed at a rate which is approximately 50 per cent higher than the rate the state is required to pay. The state can borrow money at a rate of 10 per cent, while the public utilities are paying from 8 to 10 per cent. Now the cost of water and power is made up of two elements. Half of the cost approximately is paid for in the purchase of the plant, and the other half is operating expense. So it stands to reason that if half your costs can be reduced a considerable saving in the rate will be made. Then the state can furnish water and power for much less than a private company. Another reason for cheaper rates under municipal ownership is due to the lower cost of the overhead. The head of the Pacific Gas and Electric company gets $30,000 a year and there are other highly paid officials."

"There are two points that I want to leave with you. First that the public ownership of water and electric utilities by the cities so far from allowing politics to creep in is the only way to get politics out. There is no grasping the fact that the water and power companies are in politics today. Second, that municipal ownership furnishes the one businesslike method of removing the heavy tax that is now being imposed on the people of this state by the power companies. The water and power should be developed by the cities because municipal ownership is honest, it is efficient, and gives the people better service at less cost."

"The average rate collected by the Alameda municipal plant is 4.87 cents per kilowatt hour. That rate is 37 per cent higher than the rate collected by the Pacific Gas & Electric company and the Greater California Power Company in Mayor Bartlett's own city of Berkeley, after you make allowance for taxes. The average rate collected by those companies in Berkeley is 3.57 cents per kilowatt hour, or 37 per cent less than the Alameda rate."

"When the Bethlehem Steel Company opened its works in Alameda during the war the municipal company was totally unable to supply the plant with power. It was necessary for the P. G. & E. to run a special line into that plant in order to supply the only big customer that Alameda ever had."

Police Officer Is Told to 'Prove It'

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Officials of the local public school system today demanded that Victor J. Miller, president of the board of police commissioners, prove or retract a statement made in an address last night that in a St. Louis high school there is an organization, membership in which depended on a serious breach of the moral code.

Conant granted judgment in favor of Golden. A similar motion introduced by William D. Barbee, co-defendant with Golden against Fredericks, was denied.

The suit is a test case to determine whether a large number of persons who bought shares in the radio company will be allowed to recover the amounts invested. The radio company was organized to deal in wireless telephones.

Fredericks claimed that Golden and Barbee misrepresented the assets and prospects of the company in inducing him to purchase stock.

"Don't blame the Japanese for taking all they can get, but take steps to make it impossible for them to dominate our country," said J. H. MacLafferty, speaking Wednesday before the Country club at Centerville.

"The Japanese intend to dominate the Pacific slope and they are blamed for grabbing everything in sight if we are foolish enough to stand by and allow it," he said.

"They are merely acting in accordance with human nature. The Japanese domination of California will not happen in a minute, but it can happen in 50 years, and our descendants will have a right to hold us in contempt if we allow their peaceful invasion to go on unchecked."

SAN LEANDRO, March 10.—A city is but a composite of all the people who live in it and has as much personality as an individual, in the opinion of J. H. MacLafferty of Oakland, who was the speaker at the chamber of commerce luncheon here yesterday.

MacLafferty spoke on "Your Home Town," and declared no two towns or cities were alike in their manifestations of individuality and personality.

"San Leandro is the heart of the Eastbay region, when one measures from the waterfront to Hayward," he said. "There is a great industrial future in store for this city."

30,000,000 RUSS IN FAMINE GRIP, CONFERENCE TOLD

Odessa Desolated, Turkestan Faces Starvation; Rich Lands Are Deserted.

WARSAW, March 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Delegates from Moscow arriving here today to participate in the League of Nations for the famine stricken nations of Russia now numbered approximately 30,000.

"They said Turkestan now was in the path of threatened desolation and the district of Odessa was among the most desolated parts of Russia. The famine stricken lands, which formerly was the granary of Europe, now is practically deserted," they said.

MARSEILLES, March 10.—The French steamer Jacques Frassinetti, with a full cargo of 4500 tons of wheat destined for the famine stricken regions of Russia, sailed from this port last night for Odessa. This is the first shipment by the French government of supplies to relieve Russian famine sufferers.

UNWITTING ARGUMENT.

Senator Borah unwittingly has taken part in the construction of a very strong argument for ratification of the four-power Pacific treaty now under discussion by the United States Senate. The Idaho Senator offered a resolution, which was readily acquiesced in by the Senate leaders having charge of the treaty, calling upon the President for information as to what effect the treaties negotiated at the recent Washington conference would have upon the Lansing-Ishii agreement.

President Harding has replied to the point that the Lansing-Ishii agreement has no binding effect whatever with respect to the past or to the future which is in any sense inconsistent with the new Washington treaties. This is a polite, though a direct, way of saying that the Lansing-Ishii agreement has been scrapped.

Now if the four-power or any other new treaty scraps the Lansing-Ishii agreement a highly important result has been achieved. This agreement should never have been concluded. It was imposed upon the nonchalant and inattentive Mr. Lansing by Japan's concealment of the fact that she had concluded secret agreements with Great Britain, France and Italy by which no objection was to be interposed by these governments to Japan's desire to fall heir to the sovereignty formerly exercised by Germany over Pacific islands north of the equator.

Having thus won the support of the three principal European Allies to her scheme to gain control of the former German islands in the North Pacific, Japan, through the negotiations with Mr. Lansing, won the recognition of the United States to Japan's "special position" with reference to China and other Far Eastern matters. The Tribune two years ago gave exclusively the details of how Viscount Ishii tricked Mr. Lansing into consent to five days of secrecy after the date of signing the agreement and then within the five-day interim had the Japanese minister at Peking communicate the text to the Chinese government and assert Japan's interpretation with the view of browbeating China into submission to the notorious twenty-one demands.

But there is a more important reason why the Lansing-Ishii agreement should never have been concluded. The United States government and the State Department under Mr. Lansing was utterly incapable of handling the situation which that agreement created and recognized. Lacking the ability in responsible positions to comprehend the Pacific and Far Eastern problems, the State Department was unwilling to assume any real interests in those problems. It was dully shy both in intelligence and spirit. And the department took that fatal position, of which it has often been guilty, of assuming that the agreement was one of escape from responsibilities, that it had bequeathed its interest in Far Eastern matters to Japan.

Senator Borah's request for information and the President's reply has disclosed that a way out from the disreputable undertaking known as the Lansing-Ishii agreement has been provided. This is also among the important achievements of the armament limitations conference.

PAYING WITH PROMISES.

Congress is now considering the ways and means committee majority report on a plan to meet the demand for a soldier bonus by deferring the cash payments. The main idea regarding the cash payment feature of the original plan is to have the government issue certificates of the amounts due the war veterans under the cash payment option, which the government promises to redeem by October 1925.

Plainly, Congress proposes to pay the cash demands under the bonus project with a promissory note running approximately three years. It also proposes a provision in law by which money may be loaned on the certificates, at a rate of interest not more than two percent higher than the rate of discounts fixed by the Federal Reserve Bank and prevailing at the time.

This will appear for the moment to the proponents of this scheme to be a way to relief from the necessity of raising revenue with which to pay the bonus. Congress is ready to adopt that unsound business method of assuming an obligation and waiting for something to turn up to disclose the means of discharging it. It proposes to pay a bill with a promissory note; it will think about the money to redeem the note two or three years hence.

And now bluntly speaking, the present Congress would like to get the soldier vote for the November election and is ready to pay for it with a promissory note and let some other Congress find the wherewithal for redemption.

President Harding is against this method. He maintains that if Congress votes the payment of a cash bonus it must at the same time provide means of raising additional revenue with which to make the payment.

If there is to be a cash bonus payment, why cannot Congress be wholly honest and self-respecting about it. The only honest and self-respecting way is to provide means for raising the necessary money and then pay the bonus as soon as the money is in hand.

GOVERNMENT QUILTS WOOL.

With the 118th and final auction held in Boston last week, the United States government finally has gotten out of the wool business. For the first time since 1917 the wool market of the United States is no longer dominated, nor influenced by the Quartermaster's Department of the army.

The connection of the federal government with the wool and sheep-raising industry has been one of the most interesting episodes in our economic life. It began in the summer of 1917, when 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 pounds of domestic wool was bought. At the same time about 200,000 bales of Australian wool was secured by contract with the British government. In the spring of 1918, it became apparent that an immense volume of wool would be needed for the outfitting of the 5,000,000 men, which, it had been determined, was to be the quota of the United States.

In April of that year, the government became the owner, over night as it were, of every bit of wool in the country, shorn or unshorn, already imported or to come forward under contract. Total purchases under the arrangements then made were 674,157,334 pounds, valued at $478,928,122.

At the signing of the armistice, the government was the owner of 525,000,000 pounds of wool, which finally has been sold. The salvage on the government's wool holdings has been 85 per cent, which has not been exceeded by any other item in the government's salvage operations. This result has been possible only through the co-operation of the wool trade.

There was every justification in war for the government's adventure in commandeering all the wool supplies and creating the monopoly in wool purchases and manufacture. With a plan to put a large army overseas, contemplating just before the armistice a force of 5,000,000 combatant men, the question of clothing was of first importance. The quartermaster's department believed that the best they could do would fall short of urgent necessities if the military plan was realized in full. All was well with the producers as long as the government was a buyer in the market.

But the time of complaint came when the war ended, not with 5,000,000 men overseas, but with only 2,000,000, and these about to be demobilized. "The government found itself with a great surplus of wool and when the intention to sell this supply on the general market became known, the bottom dropped out of wool prices. Growers in 1919 and a part of 1920 could hardly give their clip away. It was impossible in many cases for the sheepraiser to finance adequate protection for his flock in winter and there actually resulted a decrease in the number of sheep in this country.

With the disposal of the government's last scrap of wool, growers and manufacturers see normal conditions just ahead. Wool prices have advanced within the last two months and there is ground for the expectation of further improvement as the consuming power of the people of this country rises and European countries are financially able to make purchases which their people in several instances sorely need.

Secretary of the Navy Denby wants $2,450,000 to repair damage caused by the terezo at Mare Island Navy Yard. Walls and quays are in danger of collapsing from the ravages of this wood-boring parasite. Private transportation companies and industrial concerns have had to take similar provisions to overcome the destruction of the terezo. The amount of damage this creature causes runs into the millions every year. It would seem time to devote a lot of energy and all necessary expense money to efforts to discover effective preventive measures. Perhaps a different type of construction, though its initial cost be greater, would prove a valuable economy. It will be rather a severe indictment on government and business intelligence if it goes on spending millions annually because of inability to outwit a worm.

The Nature Club.

There is a gentleman in our canyon who is engaged in a bit of scientific research which may answer one of the baffling questions of the ages. Will a horse hair, put in water, turn into a snake? This investigator reports that he put a six-inch horse-hair in a pan of water where he has kept it now, almost two weeks. He reports that the hair had grown two inches and that it has increased its girth appreciably.

"I feed it milk and orange peelings," the scientist told us, "the illos it."

At this writing the horse-hair does not wriggle and, to all intents, is no more than a hair. Its owner, however, professes to be able to point out the place where a head is growing and has an abiding confidence that a snake will reward his watching.

He will be swimming about in a short time now," he told us, "and then I will have to name him."

There is in our possession a book which says that the horse-hair theory, so dear to younger days when we used to find them in the drinking troughs, is a myth and a superstition. The canyon scientist takes violent issue with the book and says he will prove it. The Almanac is prepared to offer a handsome prize, peace and plenty in exchange for a paper one, to the man or woman who can prove that a horse-hair has developed into a snake. In the meantime we are awaiting results from the scientist.

(From Humboldt Times.)
An automobile driven by Oby Hopper, of Sylvaudale last Thursday evening ran into a horse which was roaming the road unfettered. The machine was badly damaged but the horse was uninjured. Hopper was returning from a visit with his parents at Holmes and the accident happened near Mirandi.

Then Why Do It?

I thought that I could never swing myself
Around to this cloud-lined embittered day;
I thought I ne'er could bring my sorrowed self
To say the things that I am bound to say.
I never dreamed that I could come to you,
Meanwhile with grief and fear my heart did pant,
And tell you that our long sweet love was through—
I can't.

Do You Know Prohack?

(From Arnold Bennett's "Mr. Prohack.")

"There was nothing in life he hated more than to be hurried. For him hell was a place of which the inhabitants always had an eye on the clock and the clock was always further advanced than they hoped."

Burglars who forced a maid to play the piano while they looted a home, robbed the place "to the tune of $25,000."

The coal workers are planning their annual summer strike. Some day they will awaken to the fact that these layoffs save the operators money and provide a reason for higher priced coal in winter.

Jack Dempsey is hard at work again. It was only the other day he fired a pistol to start a six-day bicycle race.

An effort is being made to get Judge Landis, baseball arbiter, to run for mayor of Chicago but so far he has not moved the bench up to the platform.

Unless this man Lascelles has a tobacco chest named after him, he will be hard put to make any other name than that of the husband of Princess Mary.

Trust a press agent to leave out the important part. "I am happy with my books," we read in an interview with Mary Pickford and the daffodil fellow does not give a hint of what it is that Mary is reading. Our guess is "Polyanna."

TREES ARE ONE OF OUR SPECIALTIES.

NOTES and COMMENT

The National Republican coincides: "The Democratic leader of the House of Representatives bears the appropriate name of Finis—Finis J. Garrett. He declared in a speech at Topeka last week that 'the party of Lincoln has become the party of Newberry.' Sure thing—the party of Newberry and of seventeen million other voters—constituting a majority so overwhelming that even Mr. Garrett's State of Tennessee went into the Republican column at the last general election."

Then there is this from the staid Oregonian: "Backward, turn backward, O styles in this flight—on something. Anyhow, a Portland lady was called upon a few days ago by an old school flame of her knee-dress days. During the exchange of reminiscences which naturally followed the visitor said: 'Well, Kit, there's one thing—your legs look just the same.'"

The Oregonian notes the passing of a writer: "The tragedy by which John Fleming Wilson died has ended prematurely the career of a Portland author who had a genius for writing gripping stories of the sea. His earlier work as a newspaper man in Portland and as editor of a weekly paper at Newport was preparatory to development of his best talent. On vessels sailing from the Columbia river to the Orient and down the coast he acquired the taste and the material for stories of the sea, of which the Oregon coast was the scene and O'Rourke the most popular character."

The horse has not been scrapped, according to the New York Sun: "Dobbin's death knell has been sounded more times than can be counted, and tears of ink have been shed over the replacement of the horse by the motor truck, but the streets of New York and of many another city still bear evidences that percheron and shire can hold their own, in some respects at least, against gasoline. They are useful notably for short hauls. On the farm the horse and mule are still sticking around in spite of the rapid development of the tractor."

THE ROUTE-MAKER.

The route-maker sat in his office warm, with a lecturer's dates before him,
And he heaved a sigh as he started in to work out a schedule for him.

"Now what will I do with this chap," said he, who preaches of doctrines sunny,
To be sure he'll know, when his day is done, he has honestly earned his money?"

He thumbed his tables and railroad guides and he cunningly planned and planned.
"Now here's a train he can take," said he, "a local to Lecture Land; it will leave last night about one-fifteen and get into Fine and Dirty."

By way of the village of Sleepyville and connect with the seven-thirty.
"In two hours more I can dump him off at the village of Stand and Wait."

And though I have raved at the trips he planned, no malice is in my heart;

Though he's doomed to sulphurous realms below,

I'll pray to the Lord to save him.

THE MISSOURI SENATORSHIP.

Washington reports that a number of senators, usually classed as friendly to former President Wilson, have agreed that Senator Reed of Missouri should remain in the Senate, and accordingly have pledged him their aid in seeking re-election this year.

As the arch enemy among Democratic senators of President Wilson, he was the greatest aid and comfort the Republicans in the Senate had during the days of Democratic ascendancy. Last accounts, the Missouri Democrats were not particularly proud of the work of the senator. They declined to permit him to represent them in the national convention at San Francisco, and nothing has occurred since to indicate that they changed their attitude.

As far as President Wilson and his policies are concerned, they are infinitely more popular today than when the Democrats of Reed's district sent a Wilson delegation to the convention. The vindication of Wilson is proceeding at a unexpectedly rapid rate. Reed can hope to gain see where by fighting this rising tide anything, found both in the Democratic and Republican parties.

The attempted dictation from Washington is likely to prove a boomerang for Reed's candidacy. Missouri Democrats are anything like Texas Democrats, they are jealous of their right to select their own leaders and representatives, and they will resent the interference of politicians from outside the State. If Reed is wise he will keep his Washington supporters in the background until he is sure of the nomination.—Houston Post, Dem.

About YOUR HEALTH

Why You Should Chew On Both Sides of Your Mouth

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

There are lots of things a child should be taught, but how can he be taught unless the parent has the knowledge?

For instance, are you aware that a child should chew his food, using both sides of his mouth for this purpose?

You don't want one side of your face to be more developed than the other side, do you? You certainly don't want your child to be so afflicted.

It takes a lot of patience and good sense to bring up a child in the way he should go. He must be watched, not in a disagreeable way, but carefully enough to determine what his habits really are. When a true fault is discovered, if you explain why it is a fault the child will have some intelligent reason for mending his ways, without thinking his parent is "cranky."

Why should both sides of the mouth be used for chewing? Did you ever observe the teeth of a healthy dog? They are white and clean and shining. They are made so because the dog chews rough and hard food. This food cleans his teeth and polishes them. The food acts like a buffer, giving smoothness and lustre to the teeth.

If you do not use your teeth for chewing hard food, no matter how much you use your toothbrush, there may be collections of tartar on the insides or at the roots of the teeth. To prevent this accumulation of tartar both sides of the mouth and all the teeth should be used for chewing.

If this rule is adhered to there will be little tartar. If not, there will be gradual deposits at the roots of the teeth. It may even creep down between the teeth and the gums. The gum being pushed from the tooth, there is formed a pocket in which the germs can grow and thrive.

We certainly take into the mouth with our food and in other ways innumerable germs. Fortunately, most of them are harmless and even friendly. But some of these germs are of the pus-producing varieties. If some of this kind are planted in the gum pockets they get to work on the tissues of the mouth, and pretty soon you may have pyorrhea—"Riggs's disease."

Most chronic diseases of importance date back to early life. Proper habits formed then will prevent misery in adult life and old age. No greater blessing is to be had than good teeth throughout a long life.

As a matter of fact, long life depends on a considerable degree upon good teeth. For the sake of long life and comfort during it, you should watch your teeth and keep them in perfect condition. To this end you should chew your food on both sides of your mouth, and teach your children to follow this rule.

It will be easy to get the little girls to do this, because they don't want to have one-sided faces. It is hard to get young boys to practise it, especially if there is any other reason for a bad habit on one side. But it is a thing that must be done for the good of the teeth.

BERKELEY, March 10.—The last word in the controversy over the contemplated appearance of Margaret Anglin in the Greek Theater will be had by the talented actress herself.

Letters have been dispatched to Miss Anglin by officers of the English Club, university officials and others involved in the argument explaining the entire situation to her and requesting her appearance in Berkeley in August.

All that now remains, say those writing the missives, is for Miss Anglin to set the dates upon which she will appear and name the Greek tragedy which she will produce. A special invitation from the office of President David P. Barrows to Miss Anglin is declared to have been included.

That the sanction of Professor Samuel J. Hume, director of the Greek Theater, is not necessary for any production in the outdoor theater, is the declaration of college officials. Hume has declared that he will place no obstacles in the way of the Anglin production. He has not, however, endorsed the English Club presentation of the famous tragedienne.

Three Forger Suspects Wanted in East Are Arrested Here By Sheriff Barnet

In a spectacular arrest in the heart of the city last night, members of the sheriff's office captured three men said to be wanted in St. Paul for forgery. The men under arrest in the county jail are:

Jack Harris, proprietor of the Bungalow Cafe in Vallejo.

Gus Schaefer, known to the police as "Gloomy Gus."

Max Harris, brother of Jack.

Shortly before noon today the sheriff's office was advised by the officials of the Bank of Italy that Mrs. Gus Schaefer was in the safety deposit vault engaged in opening the box she maintains there.

According to the sheriff's office, Mrs. Schaefer is known also as Mrs. Gustav Schachtel, which they believe to be Schaefer's real name.

Sheriff Barnet and his deputy, Joseph Soares, arrived at the bank before the box was opened and found that it contained $5000 in currency, which was given to Mrs. Schaefer, and in jewelry, mostly diamonds, which was seized.

Estimates of the amount of jewelry range from $3000 to $18,000. An effort to secure an accurate assay of its value is being made.

This morning Albert Reynard, mail wagon driver, and Miss Lois Willour were taken to the county jail to attempt to identify the men as the mail robbers who held them up last March when Reynard was driving the wagon in company with Miss Willour. They could not identify them.

Jack Harris and Schaefer are 22 years of age and Max Harris is four years older. All three men are known to the police, having served time in San Quentin prison for a series of daring payroll robberies, one of which was perpetrated in San Francisco.

TWO IDENTIFIED.

The two younger men have been identified as the two men wanted in the St. Paul forgery, and it is believed by the sheriff's office that the older Harris is the third man of the trio. He is being held on suspicion.

Shortly before 10 o'clock last night the three sheriffs caught sight of Schaefer near the Hotel Ray at Tenth and Washington streets. They held up and robbed a St. Paul jeweler of $130,000 worth of diamonds, but this supposition was dispelled by advices from St. Paul to the effect that the arrested men are diamond brokers and are wanted for forgery.

Harris' brothers accompanied by two women alighted and went into the hotel.

The five people went up in the elevator and the sheriffs went out of the hotel into the street to await the arrival of the men.

COVERED WITH GUNS.

As the two Harris brothers and Schaefer stepped into their machine they found themselves "covered" by the revolvers of the police officers. The men submitted to arrest without a fight.

It was learned when the men were taken to the county jail that they were not armed and that the three were about $10,000 worth of diamonds on their person.

The men have refused to discuss the St. Paul case, neither admitting their innocence or indicating an intention to confess, according to Sheriff Barnet.

The men were at first arrested on suspicion of being the bank robbers, but when the diamonds were found on their person, the suspicion was dispelled by advices from St. Paul to the effect that the arrested men are diamond brokers and are wanted for forgery.

COUNTY TAX RATE $36.36 PER CAPITA

Forty-five counties in the state will have a higher per capita tax rate than Alameda county, according to a statement issued today by State Controller Ray L. Riley, whose department has been busy for some time compiling data on tax burdens.

Alameda county's total tax bill for 1921-22 amounts to $12,871,522.88, according to Riley and the estimated population of 324,000 makes the per capita cost $39.36. Kern county ranks highest with a per capita tax of $52.53.

According to Riley the tax levy includes the general county levy of $4,282,384.79 and a special and district county levy of $2,147,455.16. The balance is made up of the taxes for the city of Alameda amounting to $456,809.86; Albany, $30,453.66; Berkeley, $893,338.54; Emeryville, $24,993.21; Hayward, $53,153.91; Livermore, $18,650.00; Oakland, $3,791,889.28; Piedmont, $104,504.09; Pleasanton, $7,541.60; San Leandro, $14,109.65.

These amounts according to Controller Riley will be augmented by certain other monies distributed to the different political subdivisions by the state, such as school monies at Financiers to Revive Famous History Assn.

H. R. Wagner of Berkeley, Temptation Crocker, John S. Drum, C. O. Miller, E. S. Heller and twenty or more representative men around the bay have taken preliminary steps to reorganize the California Historical Society, subscribing $100 each for five years, to start the new organization out on a sound financial basis.

After a meeting the first of the week of the few old members remaining—Joseph Redding and Joseph Donahue among them—a meeting of the new members will be called immediately afterward, when Temptation Crocker, in all probability, will be elected president.

The old organization met last in 1894.

YOEMEN GIVE BANQUET.

SAN LEANDRO, March 10.—Brotherhood of Yeomen of San Leandro held their semi-monthly business meeting last night at the L. O. O. F. hall. Following a discussion of matters on hand, a banquet was served the members.

The rate of $100 a pupil, motor vehicle monies collected in the county, one-half of which is returned for use on the highways.

'ONE PER CENT DRIVE' NEAR END

Next Tuesday will mark the conclusion of the "one per cent drive" for $60,000 now on in this city for the benefit of the unemployed, according to an announcement by J. Al Ewing, who is in charge of this for the citizens' emergency employment and relief campaign.

Ewing has issued an appeal to all team members to "take a hitch in their belts and prepare to go over the top." There are a number of teams representing civic and luncheon clubs canvassing the district to secure the pledges of all workers to one per cent of their salary for the relief of suffering caused by unemployment.

Reports yesterday at the headquarters, 1560 Broadway, were satisfactory according to Ewing and Thomas Eastman, chairman of the citizens' committee. Employees of most of the big firms are responding with full quotas and the employers are giving large sums, it was said. Several firms telephoned today to ask for speakers to explain the matter at mass meetings of the workers.

Between $10,000 and $30,000 worth of tires are stolen from automobiles every year in New York city.

SCOUT MOVEMENT MAKES GOOD MEN, SAYS POSTMASTER

Joseph J. Rosborough in Talk Before Optimists' Club Analyzes Boys.

Holding up the Boy Scout movement as the greatest force in the modern world for showing the boys the right way of living, Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough spoke today before the Optimists' club at the weekly luncheon at Hotel Oakland, discussing "The Citizen of Tomorrow."

There was a special musical program in which Mrs. N. E. Simpson gave vocal solos accompanied by Miss Marie Rambo, and and Miss Nena Simpson offered piano selections.

"The boy seldom goes wrong in the home or at school," said Rosborough, who has been identified with boys' work in the Rotary club and in the Boy Scout council. "It is when he is idle that Satan finds work for him to do."

"We discover through reliable statistics that taking vacations, week ends, part afternoons, etc., that the boy is in school in proportion about one hour to four hours of play. His impulse to imitate what he sees and about what he likes in the real world about him, is more powerful because more natural than the tendency to identify himself with the artificial life of the school room. Hence the commanding importance of the play grounds and educational significance of games that enlist the boy's best self in active co-operation with his fellows and take care of his idle hours."

WILL GO TO STREETS.
"If nothing better offers, he will go to the streets and find his place in a gang of kindred spirits, tearing down or building up his neighbor's property and his own character at one and the same time."

"Youth is the age of potential crime and if the boy can be guided properly past the danger point, his life directed along useful lines, the criminal instincts are outgrown and he becomes a good citizen. It is also characteristic of the boy not to care so very much about his father's or his mother's opinion, particularly during the adolescent period. He cares very little about the opinion of his school teacher and of his minister. It is peculiar to the boy. But he does care very decidedly about the opinion of his fellow boys of his own age, and reserves his confidences usually for

Lawyer, Battling Hard Luck, Learns He Is English Earl

CHICAGO, March 10 (By the Associated Press).—Cyril Woodward, Chubbey Armstrong, self-made Chicago lawyer, whose struggle for a living has been only moderately successful, today was informed that he is sole heir to an English earldom, but the news had little effect on him, for he has been informed by newspaper reporters that he already possessed the greatest title in the world—that of American citizen—and desired no other.

Armstrong received a communication which had been sent to friends of his by the consular department in Washington, in response to queries from relatives in India, asking that he be located. He produced many letters and documents to prove that he was the man sought, but said he knew nothing of the title he is supposed to have inherited, for he became separated from his family when a child and had worked his way up to membership in the bar through night schools.

Previously he sold newspaper subscriptions for a living, worked on Canadian farms and finally became a reporter on the Quincy, Ill., Whig-Journal.

He is very reticent about the title.

SCOUT MOVEMENT.

"It is for these reasons that I believe the Boy Scout movement to be the most significant educational contribution of our time. The naturalist may praise it for its success in putting the boy close to nature's heart; the moralist for its splendid code of ethics; the hygienist for its methods of physical training; the parent for its ability to keep his boy out of mischief. But from the standpoint of the educator it has marvelous potency for converting the restless, irresponsible, self-centered boy into the straightforward, dependable, helpful young citizen."

"The morality and standards of today are so low and unless some concerted action is taken by the real men of this nation, I fear for the future stability of civilization."

S. F. ROTARIANS INVADE EASTBAY WITH INVITATION

Oakland Members Urged To Attend Conference; Noted Men To Attend.

Friendship begets confidence and confidence begets business.

This was one of the many reasons advanced at the meeting of the Oakland Rotary Club yesterday afternoon by the San Francisco delegation why the local organization should attend the district conference to be held across the bay from next Thursday until Saturday inclusive.

Perry Cumbersum, president of the San Francisco Rotary Club, presided, and speeches were made by the leaders of the delegation of twenty-five. As a novelty the club also provided some entertainment through the medium of Charles F. Bullotti.

Garbed as a waiter Bullotti made his first appearance interrupting a speech of the president and attracted a lot of attention through his comedy antics. Later he demonstrated his right to the title of "golden voiced tenor of the San Francisco club," singing two numbers, one in Italian and the other in English.

President Cumbersum had outlined the program for the conference, announcing that the list of speakers would include Governor William D. Stephens, William Spruille of the Southern Pacific, District Governor Charles Bill, Tully Knoles, J. Harry Harbor, Max Horvinski, Joseph Rosborough and Peter Snedigar.

Announcement was also made by the local club that an All Fools Party will be held by the Rotary Club at Achimes Temple on April 1, and that on April 27 the annual election will be held. There will be no local meeting next Thursday, the local chapter going to San Francisco for luncheon at the Palace Hotel.

That real down-East maple taste

Enjoy it again in LOG CABIN Syrup

YOU don't have to be a New Englander to long for the taste of real maple sugar.

But perhaps the excitement of working in the sugar bush was part of your own childhood. Then you remember the thrill when the first sap was being boiled down in the big open kettle and you spread some of the golden syrup to cool on the snow! Has any candy ever tasted quite so good as that first chewy mouthful?

But even in those days not all the maple syrup was as delicate in flavor as that from first-run sap. Toward the end of the season it was often strong and bitter.

And now, have you not found it hard to get maple syrup of anything like uniform goodness—no matter how much you pay?

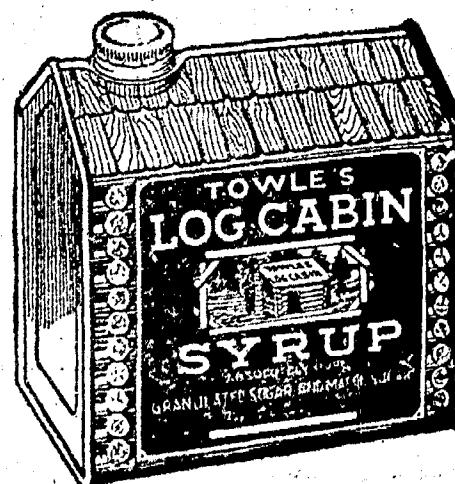

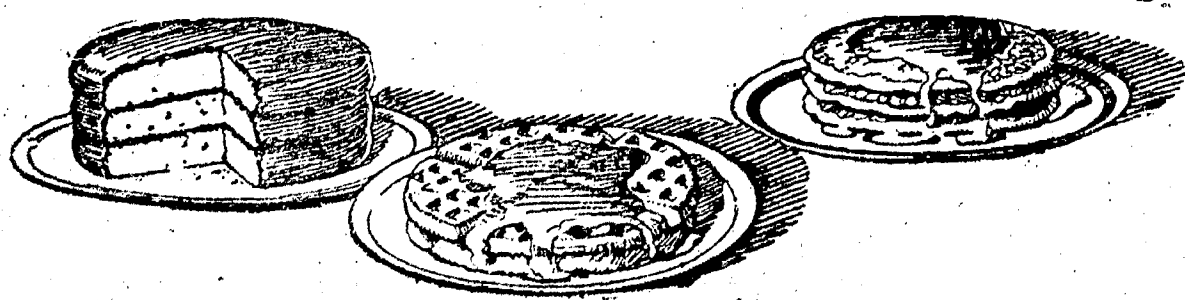

Then you will enjoy Log Cabin Syrup. Here is a table syrup with the

A blend of sugars—nothing else
For Log Cabin Syrup is made from the choicest of New England maple combined with the best from Canadian groves—the real sugars of maple in which the flavor is most intense. This is blended with just enough pure sugar of cane—and nothing else—to give Log Cabin Syrup the most delicate, most mellow maple flavor.

Log Cabin makes pancakes and waffles, French toast and fried mush just twice as good. And it's splendid for all sorts of simple desserts, for luscious cake frostings, and for candies. Get a can of Log Cabin at your grocer's today—for the real down-East maple taste! It comes in three convenient sizes. The Log Cabin Products Company, St. Paul, Minnesota.

27 LOCKED UP WITH WINE PAY FINES GLADLY

LYNN, Mass., March 10.—Twenty-seven dice players and twenty-seven barrels of wine were locked up in the same jail corridor Sunday night.

When the prisoners reeled into the courtroom yesterday the court told them severely that they should know better than to drink liquor in the law's custody and fined them $4 each for gambling. They paid, some of them remarking that the wine was well worth it.

Jail officials were ordered to keep prisoners and seizures separated hereafter.

MOTORCAR IS BURNED.

SAN LEANDRO, March 10.—The automobile of Irving Moon, undertaker, East Fourteenth street and Callan avenue, was destroyed last night when it caught fire after the wires had been short-circuited. He was returning to San Leandro from Hayward.

Newark Officer of O. E. S. Visits South
NEWARK, March 10.—Mrs. Etta Biddle, of Newark, Grand Ruth of the Order of Eastern Star of the State of California, today is in Los Angeles, the guest of Mrs. Nellie Van Graham.
While in Los Angeles, Mrs. Biddle will attend the receptions to be given by the Los Angeles chapters of the order in honor of the grand officers who are in Los Angeles this week.
Mrs. Biddle is one of the most prominent members of the Eastern Star order in the state.

FARM BUREAU COW TEST SHOWS BUTTER YIELD
MODESTO, March 10.—The February testing report of the dairy department of the Stanislaus County Farm Bureau shows that the five men with the highest test cows in the county are C. E. Fisher, Hugh Richards, Simon Newman Co., E. W. Looney and C. T. Jarrett. In the order named, the best cow, Georgia, a Guernsey, produced 1372 pounds of milk, or 51.7 pounds of butter fat.

The average butterfat for the month for the 1907 cows tested was 25.1 pounds. This was lower than the average for January. The drop was attributed to unfavorable weather.
RATHOS IS ARRAIGNED.
MARTINEZ, March 10.—John Rathos, shot by Joe Quillik at Crockett and arrested yesterday on a charge of burglary following his discharge from the county hospital, was taken to Crockett today and arraigned on the burglary charge before Justice of the Peace Ray Stansbury. Rathos' bail was fixed at $1000. He failed to deposit it and was remanded to the county jail.

ALLIES ASKED BY U. S. TO PAY FOR OCCUPATION COST Demand Made for $241,000,000 Before Any Reparations Are Paid.
PARIS, March 10.—(By the Associated Press).—A demand from the United States that $241,000,000 for its expenses in connection with occupation of the Rhineland be paid before any reparations were paid was presented to the allied finance ministers at their meeting this morning.
The question of extending the scope of the Wiesbaden reparations agreement between France and Germany so as to make Germany's payments in kind applicable to all the allies was before today's session of the finance ministers. Some such alteration of the Wiesbaden accord, signed last year by Louis Loucheur and Dr. Walter Rathenau, was originally proposed at the recent meeting of the supreme council at Cannes.
WOULD LIMIT DELIVERIES.
The point at issue is the amount of deliveries Germany should make to France for the devastated regions, some of the allies desiring to limit the amount to 900,000,000 gold marks' worth of material, so as to leave part of Germany's capacity for payments in kind available for the other allies, Belgium, Italy and Great Britain. French concession on payment for the Saar coal mines out of the first sums due her from Germany, it was understood today, may be compensated by a slight increase in this amount.
The finance ministers were understood to have agreed to limit the future demands on Germany for the expenses of military occupation to 225,000,000 gold marks annually. France yielded on the Saar question at yesterday's session, when it was decided that 300,000,000 gold marks, the appraised value of the Saar valley coal mines, would be charged against France out of her first share in reparations payments obtained from Germany.
HUGHES IS SILENT.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Hughes refused today to comment on the news from Paris that representatives of the United States government has presented a demand to the allied finance ministers that expenses aggregating $241,000,000 sustained by the United States in the occupation of the Rhineland be paid before any reparations. There was nothing that could be said on the subject at this time, Hughes declared.

Town Suspends Police Chief After Dry Raid
HUDSON, N. Y., March 10.—Police Chief John Cruise Jr. was under suspension, twenty saloons and hotels were closed, and state troopers had assumed police duty here today as the result of raids by more than a dozen prohibition agents.
Ten men were arrested, but City Judge May refused to hold them on the ground that specific charges were not preferred. The Hudson public safety commission ordered the suspension of Chief Cruise, charging neglect of duty.

Adolphians Hear Wilson on Liquor

ALAMEDA, March 10.—The prohibition law should either be enforced or it should be changed to permit the sale of liquor by the government. This is the stand taken by C. C. Wilson, speaking upon current topics at the meeting of the community forum in the Adelphi club last night.

Wilson also expressed the opinion that the work of James Jeffries, pugilist evangelist, was along right lines, although it might be that his message was being presented in a crude way.

Howard Gilkie, landscape gardener of Oakland, spoke on the life and aims of Luther Burbank. Gilkie was formerly associated with the Santa Rosa plant wizard. He also spoke strongly for the preservation of the redwood trees in the vicinity of the bay and for a scenic boulevard about Alameda.

WITH CRUTCH AS COMPANION, BEGINS WALK

BERKELEY, March 10.—Bearing letters to President Harding, Henry Ford and other distinguished officials and citizens, James Alby Hill, 68-year-old Berkeleyan, will start at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on a transcontinental walk to which he plans to devote the next two years. A crutch as an aid to his walking will be his only companion.

Hill's destination is Eastport, Maine, the most easterly point in the United States. This is Hill's second attempt. Last summer he started on a similar mission by way of the northern route, but was forced to turn back at British Columbia shortly before Christmas because of the cold weather encountered.

COUNTRY CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS AT NEXT MEETING

Women Name Committee to Select Candidates for Office.

CENTREVILLE, March 10.—Officers for the next year will be elected by the members of the Country Club at the next meeting of the organization, Tuesday, April 4, it was announced today by Mrs. Du Bois Eaton, secretary.

A committee, on which Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth, of Niles, Mrs. John Scribner, of Alameda, and Mrs. Henry Patterson, of Centerville, are members, was appointed Tuesday when the club met, to nominate candidates for the various offices to be filled at the election, April 4.

The nomination of this committee was the most important business transacted by the club at the last meeting with the exception of the address delivered to the women by J. H. MacLafferty, who spoke on the Japanese question.

It had been planned to give part of the time of the meeting to the consideration of the proposition of raising a fund to provide milk to be given to the undernourished children in the schools of Washington township but as many of the members were ill and could not attend, it was thought better to postpone the discussion. Similar action was taken in the matter of discussion of the proposed organization of a Boy Scout troop among the boys of the township.

Sanitary Petition Said to Lack Names

BERKELEY, March 10.—That the referendum petition against the proposed sanitary fill lacks forty-eight names necessary to call an election was announced today by Miss Emma Hahn, city clerk, who will make her report to the city council on Tuesday after the city attorney has checked her count.

The petition contained 133 names and 150 were rejected by the clerk. The petition needed 1281 names.

Shadows Hide Reason Behind Yell for Police

As the result of a near-battle in the city hall between Lee Gross of the health department and Henry Nedderman of the street department, police officials this morning set up a general armistice in the matter and a situation somewhat resembling peace prevailed.

It is known that there has been ill-feeling between Gross and J. H. Nedderman, former chief of police and head of the traffic squad, but it never came to the surface until this morning when the telephone Chief of Police Drew for police protection on the sixth floor of the city hall. Gross alleged that Henry Nedderman, son of the police official, was there and locked Willie.

Drew refused the police protection. Gross then took the matter up with the Commissioner. Instead of giving sympathy, Colbourn became irate.

What are you doing in your office at this time of day? asked Colbourn. Go on your beat. If you're anything against Nedderman go see the district attorney. But get to work.

Gross, when interviewed, refused to say anything.

Police Sergeant Nedderman said his son had done nothing and had no intention of doing anything. He just went into the health department on business," explained Nedderman Sr. "He didn't even give Gross a mean look. I don't know why Gross got so scared."

Patrolman Flags Train; Saves Auto

The accident happened at Shattuck and Durant avenues. Dr. H. Van Tassel, 5540 Oceanview drive, Oakland, was the driver of one of the machines. The other auto was driven by J. L. Payne, 319 Folger avenue, Berkeley.

C. Dufrain, 1514 Jackson street, Oakland, and Payne's brother, Alfred, Miss Dufrain was thrown out of the machine. She struck upon her head, suffering serious cuts. She was treated at the Emergency hospital.

The other two were remanded to the county jail for trial. Codde had to send to Michigan for birth certificates. Isaac Mickelsen, the fourth member of the gang, was shot by Policeman William Suhl, still in the county hospital.

BOY, 16, ADMITS ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP DENVER BANK

Youngster Caught After Blast Confesses Crimes Which Baffled Police.

DENVER, Colo., March 10.—Harry Singer, 16 years old, arrested at 4 o'clock this morning, is said by police to have confessed to an attempt made last night to rob the vaults of the Metropolitan State bank.

Singer, according to the police, declared that he had worked without the aid of an accomplice and had drilled and blasted half way through the giant walls of the vault before he became frightened away by the detonations of nitro-glycerin which he had used in attempting to effect an entrance.

According to Chief of Detectives W. A. Rinker, Singer declared that the last blast which he used had been so loud that it frightened him. Hearing the police riot squad, he dashed out and hid on the roof of the bank building which is near the heart of the downtown business district.

After the police had left the building, he says, he jumped from the roof to the roof of an adjoining building which houses a restaurant. Then he entered a skylight and proceeded to rifle the cash register of the restaurant. He also took a waiter's coat which he found in the building as he had left his own in the bank building when he escaped. It was while he was leaving the restaurant that he was arrested.

In addition to leaving his coat in the bank building Singer left two suitcases containing an elaborate set of burglar tools. Singer, according to the police, came to Denver two months ago in search of work. Failing to find it, he turned burglar, and police are authority for the statement that Singer had confessed to a series of robberies which for the last two weeks have been baffling the police.

Munitions Ship Blast Kills 15 Russians

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 10.—Fifteen (By the Associated Press)—Fifteen of the crew of the Bolshevik transport ship were killed and many wounded when the ship's cargo of munitions exploded at Trebizond on the Black Sea. The explosion also did some damage to the town, where great quantities of munitions have been received lately from Russia.

Trebizond is in Asiatic Turkey, and the reference to the movement of munitions from Russia would indicate that the Turkish Nationalist army was being supplied from that source.

MY FAVORITE STORIES by IRVIN S. COBB

The Confusing Geography of Jersey

Years ago, when I earned my daily bread and occasional beer on Park Row, one Andy Horn ran a cozy bar in the shadow of Brooklyn Bridge. All sorts and conditions of men frequented the saloon—sailors, newspaper men, rich men, poor men, policemen off duty, artists and commuters from over the river.

A grubby person known as Smitty was a fixture at Andy's. He cut up food for the free-lunch counter, did odd jobs, and in rush hours helped to serve the trade. Smitty was to Manhattan what a cockney is to London.

He had been born on Cherry Hill, right around the corner; he had been reared on the Bowery, and he had never ranged further than Coney Island or Far Rockaway. Greater New York city was all the world he knew or cared to know.

His sister married a German market gardener over in New Jersey, and when his summer-time vacation came, Smitty went to visit her for two weeks. His new brother-in-law had bought a car and had promised to tour Smitty about over the State and show him the sights.

At the end of a week Smitty was back at work. One of the regular patrons hailed him:

"Hey, Smitty, I thought you were going to stay longer. Didn't you care for country life?"

"Nix on dat stuff fur me," said Smitty. "I'm offen it fur life. Say, dat Joisey sootiny is one funny place. Why, all dem towns over there is got different names!"

WHAT THEY PROBABLY SAY IN THE MOVIES

SCENE—Lonely log cabin in blizzard-swept wilderness. Enter Northwestern Mounted Policeman. Registers great joy at finding childhood sweetheart here in the wild. Sweeps her into his arms. Presumably is telling her again of his passionate heart hunger for her. She in turn is presumably confessing her love for him.

HE (tilting her chin and looking adoringly into her eyes)—It's a wonder you wouldn't have a clean shirt for a feller. I looked all over the place for one this morning and finally had to turn the cuffs in this one.

SHE (with misty glance of maidenly surrender)—How 'dye get that way? S'pose I've got nothing else to do but caddy shirts for you?

HE (pressing kisses on her forehead)—Over to Boyce's I suppose last night. Another one of those wild parties. No wonder you've got dark rings under your eyes.

SHE (burying her face in his manly shoulder)—Well, I'm sick of waiting for you to take me out. Besides I got home early, didn't I?

HE (stroking her face with loving finger tips)—Yes, early in the morning. You do it again and you'll find the door locked.

SHE (tip-toeing to reach his lips with hers)—Don't make me laugh.

HE (kissing her madly)—You heard (kiss) me; (kiss) waddye think (kiss) I am, anyway (kiss).

II

SCENE—The guillotine, time of the French Revolution. Marie Antoinette is being strapped to guillotine board by husky Sans Culotte (an extra). Howling mob. Tense excitement.

MARIE ANTOINETTE (with impassive countenance)—Say, not so tight with that strap. What do you think I am? A horse?

MOB (supposed to be howling French imprecations)—Addaboy! Hurry! Wowowow—go to it! Whee!

MARIE ANTOINETTE (to the executioner)—I'm throwing a party tonight. Coming over?

EXECUTIONER (fiercely)—Am I? Hot dog! Hot cat!

MARIE ANTOINETTE (with gesture of resignation)—C'mon, speed up the execution! I'm dying for a cigarette and an Eskimo pie.

EXECUTIONER (with a gigantic gesture of hatred for entire royalty, jerks rope releasing knife that beheads luckless queen)—You and me both—off goes your head. See you in Hollywood tonight.

Chips Off the Block by Robert Quillen

The Irish Free State appears to be a kind of free-for-all state. "Hanging doesn't discourage crime." At any rate, hanging juries doesn't.

National pride is merely a smoke-screen laid down to conceal a national graft.

The world is growing better, but it is yet too early to hold out hope of complete recovery.

That peculiar smell in a tightly-packed movie house is probably an atmosphere of democracy.

In these modern times one wonders what has become of the old gentleman who wore the heavy beard as an aid in straining soup.

But think of the awful fix we'd be in except for the elevating influence of women in politics.

Ill fares poor France, to hastening ills a prey; when debts accumulate and the Huns won't pay.

For the next few decades, national aspiration in Germany will take the form of national perspiration.

And so the peace dollar is designed to last twenty-five years. Well, there are a few optimists left in Washington.

If it weren't that fools rush in where angels fear to tread, there would be no necessity of traffic cops.

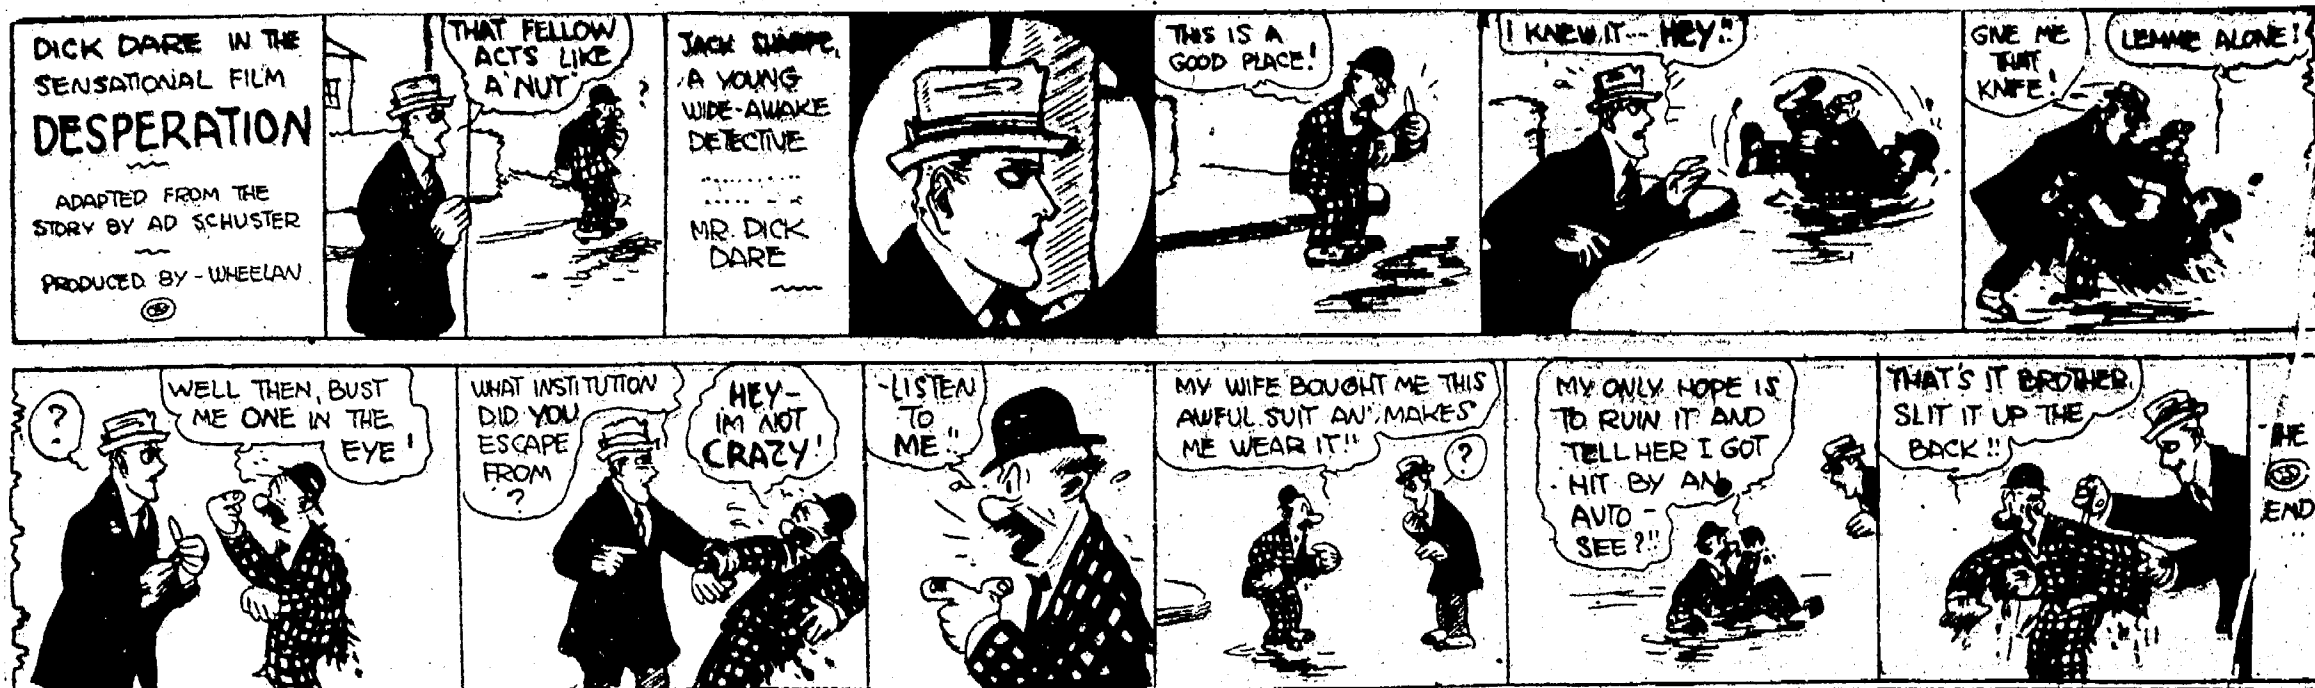

The average American thinks thrift consists in getting along with four cylinders instead of six or eight.

The public may boycott the wicked movies, but it continues to devour spiey stories about the movie people.

As a matter of fact, statesmen know the way out. But if they bowed to the inevitable at once, they wouldn't be statesmen.

by ANDRE TRIDON

OUR LIKES AND DISLIKES

ANDRE TRIDON

People cannot be blamed for their likes and dislikes, their love or their hatred. People love because, for the time being, their blood is filled with certain chemicals. They hate because other chemicals are compelling them to do so. This is not fatalism. On the contrary, when we realize that many unconscious complications, generally fears, generated in our organism the wrong chemicals and that those fears can be removed by analysis, we no longer adopt a fatalistic attitude to life. We make up our minds to remove the complexes which create in us absurd feelings and thereby to regain our free will.

A few laboratory examples will illustrate my meaning. If you pour alcohol or kerosene, or beer into a fish bowl, containing copepods, small fresh water crustaceans, all those little animals will rush toward the end of the bowl, which faces the source of light, AS THOUGH

(All Rights Reserved. Reproduction Prohibited.)

THEY LOVED THE LIGHT.

In fact they will become so interested in light that they will forget their meals. If their food is deposited near the opposite end of the bowl, they will finally starve to death.

On the other hand, if you pour strychnine or caffeine into the water where they swim, they will all turn their backs to it and will rather die of hunger than look at the light.

If the seltzer-fed cope pod could speak it would assure us that it loved light while the same cope pod fed on coffee would swear that it hated light.

This is very often the way we manage to hate things and people! Only, being "reasoning" if not "reasonable" animals, we manufacture convenient excuses for our likes and dislikes. We imagine a lot of reasons why a man or a woman attracts us or why we feel murderously inclined toward some other human being. The more uncritical we are, the more convincing those reasons seem to us and not infrequently those beliefs lead us into some form of insanity. People who are not so dangerous, but who are the people who hate who should be analyzed carefully. For they do no good to anyone, not even to themselves. Whenever likes and dislikes go beyond a certain limit they are morbid and should be reduced through analysis.

STORY DEN

MARGIE JOHNSON.

1269 Seventy-sixth Ave., Oakland.

Hands of a magician. Could you once get her out of his hands she would be safe and the enchantment broken and he could not take her again. The magician will not be there when you get there, but inside of thirty minutes he will be back so you will have to make quick work of it.

As soon as Donald had eaten breakfast he set out on the journey.

In the bird's claws, and was soon

there. He found his sweetheart, Barbara alone. As soon as she saw him she was overjoyed and fled with him at once.

When the magician came home he was very angry but of no avail for he knew he could not get possession of her again.

Meanwhile Donald had fled with Barbara and when they reached their destination Barbara's parents were very glad to see her again, and the same was Barbara.

About a month after that they were married. As for the odd bird he was never heard of or seen again, but you can guess what an undying gratitude Donald had to it.

There has been much talk about the letter that have come in to A. S. L. It is with love that I pass them on, for I believe there has been a time in every man's life when oblivion, or forgetfulness, has been a wonderful hereafter has been a temptation.

Dear Geraldine:

I have been reading the letters you have been publishing the last few days in answer to A. S. L. and as she says in her last letter, most of them have striking similarities. I am sure that from persons who some years ago had to face what they believe to be the same issue.

I am going to send this note to you because I am afflicted with an incurable disease and know just how A. S. L. feels. I am not penniless, but have very little. I may have many years to live, or it may be only a few days.

Dear Geraldine: I have been reading the letters you have been publishing the last few days in answer to A. S. L. and as she says in her last letter, most of them have striking similarities. I am sure that from persons who some years ago had to face what they believe to be the same issue.

I am going to send this note to you because I am afflicted with an incurable disease and know just how A. S. L. feels. I am not penniless, but have very little. I may have many years to live, or it may be only a few days.

Listen, World!

EVA EDWARDS can't understand why her husband does not get ahead. They've been married seven years and, although he's had half a dozen jobs, he isn't earning as much as he was at first. Never seems to be able to stay long enough in one place to get any advancement. Queer! Young—only 32—healthy, good looking, bright, yet he never "lands." Never seems to take any great interest in ment I prayed to die. I contemplated suicide by every method I could devise. There was nothing to hold me here, the loss would have been fully covered by insurance, and any threat of the unpardonable sin or everlasting punishment had no weight with me, for I don't believe any of us everlasting happiness or so evil that we deserve eternal damnation. However, I couldn't die.

If we could only be sure of oblivion, but there must be some reason for us being here, else the whole of this human experience becomes an unanswerable joke.

I believe the Creative Principle that plants in the tiny brain the bulb, the consciousness and power to assimilate from the air and sun and rain, the elements necessary for his growth and development until it brings forth the life in its perfection and beauty, will give us the power to make a success of the business of living if we desire it. I know in this present life we can go through "hell" and come out on the other side.

Entirely apart from creed or dogma, I believe that Jesus the Christ was crucified for his ideals, and that He voluntarily suffered shame and ignominy, and torture, to prove the truth of his teaching. We, too, can emerge from the tomb of our dead desires, and rise to "Walk in newness of life."

Three times in the ten years since my physical collapse I have been almost well, each time the same influence which caused the first breakdown has put me on the toboggan, the last time I almost lost my grip, but I burned my bridges behind me and came to California. While I have not yet found my soul, I have conquered the desire to die and resolved to play the game to the end. I am still seeking the trail, Jerry, that leads to the sunlit hills.

There is a little verse from one of Eugene Field's poems I learned when a child, I would say to A. S. L.: "For we know, not every morrow

So forgetting all the trouble we have had, Let us wipe away our tears, and put by our foolish fears And through all the coming years, just be an INTERESTED READER.

Here's the question of the married woman worker again. To Geraldine: I am just dropping you a few lines regarding the lowering of women's wages. I think, and so do many others that the places of business should let out all married women who are good workers, making good salaries and giving the work to girls who must support themselves, or married women whose husbands are sick or dead and have families to support, that the merchants should be doing something worth while.

I am personally acquainted with several of these women, whose husbands are making upwards of two hundred dollars a month, and holding positions that a poor woman could have, that have no husbands to support them. These married women won't have families, and work to because they don't know what to do with themselves at home. I know that personally, and they admit that children are too much bother. They ought to be ashamed of themselves—what is this world coming to? I am married and have three children, and I am having a sick husband flat on his back with T.B. When he was well he would never let me work, as his ideas and mine were to raise a family and help our country along.

I have a good position myself, but feel sorry for those who haven't. I know a little widow who has a long list of the positions that a married woman gets, a hundred and eighty-five dollars a month, and won't have a family. The little widow woman has children, and her husband is in this position when the married woman sees fit to give it up, as her employers said she could. This is what the merchants ought to do instead of lowering our salaries, that we can barely live on now. Please print this as I am talking from experience and not as one who doesn't know.

PERFLEXED.

I'm always glad to hear that question discussed, and I'm willing to publish all arguments, pro or con. But somehow I wonder if we'd come sooner to the justice of the thing if we stopped thinking of the woman think of her money. A WOMAN and began to think of her money. ## Initial Presentation of Hickey-Freeman Clothes For Spring

Our Collections are Ready
Our Selections are Right

In every clothing institution of any account this season, the chief characteristic of its clothes, whoever makes them, is simplicity of treatment. Not only are freak clothes obsolete, but the pendulum has swung so far the other way, that present styles are the most conservative in many years.

This gave us an idea!

We said to ourselves! This restraint in models has gone so far that it's time to cut loose in fabrics, and offset simplicity of line with sumptuousness in color! We'll assemble the richest, warmest color schemes imaginable and make them the medium of individuality!

We took up the subject with Hickey-Freeman. They felt the same as we did. We then proceeded together to create a collection of woolens whose color schemes exceed anything we have ever had in beauty and originality.

And for Tailoring—they are Customized by Hickey-Freeman!

You are Invited and Expected to look over the new Spring crop!

JOE COFFEY SURPRISES BY TAKING DECISION FROM O'HARA

FIRST ANNUAL INDUSTRIAL ATHLETIC CARNIVAL TAKES PLACE AT THE AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

FOURTH ROUND FINISH DECIDES CONTEST IN FAVOR OF JOE COFFEY

Pat Boyle Wins, But Fails to Show Knockout Punch; Benny Vierra Wins From White.

By BOB SHAND.

Teddy O'Hara's coffee was a bit too strong for him last night and he lost a decision in the main event of T. Simpson's weekly pugilistic offering at the Auditorium. A decisive licking was handed Teddy in the fourth round by that well-known member of the Coffey family, Joe, when he forgot how to block a right hand swing for the chin and Coffey connected with every one of the dozen clouts he started. Prior to that fourth spasm O'Hara had a slight shade by virtue of taking the third round by a slight margin after the first two had been split fifty-fifty. When the fourth opened Coffey knew he had to fight. Dolph Thomas, his chief second reminded him of that Australian trip he is to start on next Tuesday and told him it would never do to go away with a defeat tacked on him by an Oakland four-rounder. Thomas really won the battle for Coffey as he instructed him to use a right hand punch exclusively and it was this method of attack that disconcerted the Watts Tract entry and started him swinging wildly.

Coffey is as full of tricks as he ever was and he got O'Hara in wrong with the customers when Teddy really went to town. Several times Coffey deliberately jammed his face against O'Hara's glove and Teddy got more for "head-butting" than he did for "knocking out" O'Hara. The shock of getting a little applause and no hits when he entered the ring upset the son of Man O'Hara and he didn't start fighting until the two choruses opened. O'Hara Almost Wins the Fight in the First Round.

Teddy almost copped the scrap in the first round when his famous left hook connected. Again in the second round he pulled himself to a right hander, dazed Joe and he got another left hook in the third that caused him to grab. However, Coffey outboxed him throughout and his fourth round finish more than offset the three solid wallopers O'Hara landed. Judge Charles E. McLaughlin had the first three rounds and on this figuring he gave Teddy the decision. Judge J. J. McLaughlin, in favor of Coffey and the referee put in with him.

Pat Boyle fought two nice rounds with Al Delmar and then got a pain in his left side that slowed him up. In the fourth Delmar was out on his feet. Boyle tried to have enough stuff to finish his man. Boyle won handsomely enough, but he needs a lot more boxing to regain his former status. Joe White, older looking and much bolder than when he was boxing under the management of Louis Parente, tried a come-back and did fairly well. He lost a decision to Benny Vierra, but he gave Benny a good time in the last round and did not lose by a very wide margin. Vierra would be a great fighter if he only had a punch that would be hard enough to fight his way out of a paper bag.

Francis and Walters Box An Interesting Draw. Pete Francis and Sallor Walters staged an old fashioned slugfest that went over big with the customers. It was called a draw and both are anxious for a return match. Francis put up one of the best fights of his career and looks better in every start.

Jimmy K. Lee and Bud Manning boxed a draw but Manning appeared to have the edge. Bud popped a million straight lefts into Jimmy's good looks. Kelley was fighting back all the time, but James got all that was coming to him when he received a draw. Dick Wallace gave Frankie Murphy an artistic lacing in every round and scammed off with the decision. Murphy was game and took his beating without whimpering, but he was sorely outclassed. A knockdown only clinched the victory for Teddy Wolfe's good weathering. Julius Caesar acted as a punching bag for Johnny Brutus Carles and the thing was stopped in the first round after Julius had been knocked around the ring and then flattened with a right hander to the chin. Julius train d by letting the other kids in the gymnasium bounce punches off his chin. He overlooked the fact that they wear very large gloves in training.

Joe Coffey, the young man who whipped Teddy O'Hara last night, has decided not to go to Australia. It was a rough voyage across the bay last night and after "Petio" got home he declared an Australian trip

Fight Results

OMAHA, March 10.—Dave Shade, of San Francisco, won the referee's decision over Morris Schaffer, of Omaha, in ten rounds here last night. Shade led all the way. They are welterweights.

TACOMA, Wash., March 10.—Joe Eagan, Boston middleweight, and Gordon McKay, of Seattle, claimant of the coast title, went six rounds to a draw here last night. Jimmy Rivers, Tacoma lightweight, was too elusive for Kid Johnson, Olympia, and won the referee's decision after six rounds of fast battling.

Eddie Roberts, Tacoma welterweight, outboxed Eddie Hume, of San Francisco, in a four-round bout. Mickey Dempsey, Portland, 130-pounder, beat Al London, of Seattle, in a four-round bout, and Marshall Posa, Tacoma, bantam, and Jimmy Smith, also of Tacoma, drew in the first four rounds.

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 10.—Red German, local heavyweight, was given the newspaper decision over the veteran Eddie McGeorgy in their ten-round contest here last night. German weighed 204 pounds and McGeorgy 177.

Little is known of the ability of the California first year court team and the matches against Lowell should produce some excellent tennis.

Tabloid Sports

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 10.—Kalamazoo was a winner in the first round play of the National Intercollegiate Basketball tournament held here last night.

Kalamazoo, Michigan state champion, upset a well-known team of the Pacific Coast conference, in the other round play of the tournament, winning by a score of 33 to 22.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Kid Norfolk, negro boxer, who was knocked out by the negro heavyweight, Harry Wills, at Madison Square Garden last week, may gain solace from the fact that Wills went to Bellevue hospital today to have X-rays taken of his right hand, which he injured in dealing the knockout.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, noted British professional golfers, have decided to make another visit to the United States this year, according to a cable message received today. They plan to leave England June 25.

ALAMEDA, March 10.—Alameda High baseball team won from rival Alameda Junior-Senior High School, 3-2. The battery of Alameda consisted of Elges and Nissen, and of Poly, Sorico, French and Mueller. Al Steele of the Alameda team, was only home run.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA. March 10.—The Seniors won the annual inter-class track meet here, the second half of which was held yesterday afternoon.

Most of the Sequoyah players selected for the San Jose match have played over the course and made themselves familiar with its peculiarities. All reports seem to indicate that the fairways and greens are in good condition, so excellent golf is looked for. A number of the Sequoyah team intend motoring down to San Jose early enough to have a morning round previous to the big match.

There is no restriction according to U. S. G. A. rules regarding practice previous to match play. The San Jose club is making every effort to get together a stronger combination than they were able to turn out against the Claremonters. The Sequoyah players must be careful not to underestimate their opponents on account of their failure against Claremont, but must endeavor to secure all possible points. Good team work in a best ball match frequently counts when individual brilliancy fails to score.

Walter T. Wood, chairman of the greens committee at Claremont, is determined to have the course in first-class condition at an early date. A largely increased staff of workmen are busy engaged making alterations in the hole in one club at Claremont recently in reference to Sandy Herd's record of 14 holes in one, and Patrick Doyle's record of 2 holes in one. John Black was questioned as to how often he had holed out from the tee in one and owned up to a record of nine separate miracle shots. Five of these have been accomplished at Claremont. One that he pulled off at Troon, Scotland, did not even hit the green, but dropped right on the fly into the cup. This shot happened when John was playing in a tournament with a handicap of plus 6 and won the prize of twenty pounds ($300) by one stroke. Playing over the famous Gullane No. 1 course the Claremont professional holed out with a creek shot at the 13th, which measures about 190 yards. It was recognized as one of the hardest one-shot holes.

HUNT FOR BOOZE
THIEF SUSPECTS MADE STATEWIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The police today prepared to broadcast throughout the state circulars describing in detail the three men sought in connection with the looting of the home of Julian Hart, Menlo Park millionaire, of liquor and silverware valued at $25,000. Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson admits that he has had to abandon clues which he thought would lead to the early apprehension of the fugitives.

It has become known that a sixth man is being sought as a possible participant in the robbery. This man, according to the police, visited the Hart home several weeks ago and, on a pretext he had been assigned to make repairs, inspected the premises.

The two suspects now in custody, Clifford Rotins, who is said

Before Columbus,
Left Spearhead?

Resultant of the discovery of an ancient Japanese spearhead by Jesse Peter, alumnus of the University of California, in the Tomales region, Professor A. L. Kroeber of the anthropology department announced today his belief that Chinese and Japanese visited America before Christopher Columbus.

The spearhead, found in an Indian burying mound near Tomales Bay, Marin county, was turned over to Professor Kroeber and the inscriptions near its base deciphered by Professor Y. S. Kikyo as being a mixture of Japanese and Chinese motives of good luck, of the pre-Columbian period. It is the belief of Professor Kroeber that a Japanese ship may have been wrecked off the California shore and the spear washed in. The spear is made of iron, a material the Indians did not use.

"COUNTRY STORE" PAYS.
SAN LEANDRO, March 10.—Receipts from the "country store" held recently by the Red Cross of San Leandro, will make a substantial increase in the working fund of the local organization. According to Mrs. B. F. Mason, chairman, over $200 was realized by the benefit, and the entire amount will be used immediately to aid the sick or unemployed of this city. The amount received, it was said, far exceeded expectations, the money being sufficient to practically clear up the local unemployment situation.

QUICK WORK SAVES HOME.
SAN LEANDRO, March 10.—A fire of unknown origin broke out yesterday in a barn in the rear of the residence of J. Alameda, 251 Danner street, San Leandro. The flames were extinguished almost immediately upon the arrival of the fire engines. The damage caused was slight. Records on file at the city hall show that yesterday's alarm is the first since the first of February.

POLICEMAN SHOTS
MAN IN CAR RIOT;
ANOTHER IS HELD

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—One man was shot through the left thigh and beaten severely and Patrolman James Quigley suffered severe bodily injuries when he was attacked by three men near Glenview street and Onondago avenue today.

Quigley's alleged assailants had been ejected from a street car on which they were creating a disturbance and their assault upon him was witnessed by many women passengers, who added their screams to the tumult created by the battle. Two of the men were arrested. A third escaped. The men in custody are Cecil and Dewey Stall, marine engineers, residing at 50 Payson street. The third man is said to have been Robert Strong.

OFFICER KICKED AND BEATEN.
Quigley was knocked to the pavement and kicked and beaten before he fired the shot that wounded Dewey Stall and summoned other officers who took the brothers into custody.

According to Quigley, he was off duty and in plain clothes. He was on his way to his home at 323 Clementina street. At Onondago avenue Allen W. Keyes, conductor of the street car on which Quigley was riding, told the officer that three men were creating a disturbance.

PRESENT EJECTION FROM STREET CAR.
Quigley ejected them from the car and the fight started. When other officers arrived they found Quigley badly battered but in command of the situation.

Dewey Stall and Quigley were removed to the Mission Emergency hospital, where Stall was treated for a bullet wound in the left thigh and a badly lacerated scalp. Quigley was treated for severe cuts and bruises about his entire body. The second prisoner was removed to the city prison.

A search is being made for the man identified as Strong.

Electrocution Is Failure Until Twelfth Attempt

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 10.—James Wells, 18 years old, negro murderer, was electrocuted at the state penitentiary after eleven unsuccessful attempts had been made by an inexperienced electrician to electrocute him. The twelfth attempt, according to witnesses, was successful.

Going to the chair singing, he continued to sing until the first charge of electricity was sent through his body. Wells was examined by the state physicians, who pronounced him still alive.

Another charge of electricity was sent through his body, but with the same result. Witnesses began to leave the death room and only a few were present when the last charges were sent through his body and Wells finally was pronounced dead.

Fully twenty minutes were consumed in putting him to death. Wells was convicted of killing Peter Trenz, a farmer, near Monticello.

WEDS SHOW GIRL;
MATER SAYS NIX

NEW YORK, March 10.—"Boys, I'm married."

In this manner, Robert Savage, who says he is the son of the late millionaire steel manufacturer of Duluth, revealed to reporters his marriage to a New York chorus girl, Geneva Mitchell.

Today Savage is waiting to hear from his mother, who is at La Jolla, Cal.

He called reporters to the Biltmore hotel and made the announcement. He gave his age as 21 and that of his bride as 17. She will continue her work in "Sally" and "The Midnight Frolics."

While Savage was telling the newspapermen all about it, his wife darted into the room, shook her bobbed hair, giggled and ran out again when she realized what was going on.

Savage—who is a star prep school athlete—said he saw Miss Mitchell in twenty-two performances on the stage after Cupid's first barb hit the bullseye.

SAN DIEGO, March 10.—"Yes, I have a son Robert in New York," said Mrs. John D. Savage at her La Jolla home here today.

"I have not heard of his marriage there."

"He has stated that he is waiting to hear from his mother," Mrs. Savage was told.

"Well, he'll wait a long time," was the instant rejoinder.

TO GET CROSSINGS.

SAN LEANDRO, March 10.—Work will be begun on the railroad crossings of b. a. the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific Railroads in San Leandro, according to recent communications received by J. J. Gill, city clerk. It was stated in the letters that the reason for the seeming neglect was owing to the recent heavy rains, making repairs impractical for the time, besides interfering with the construction men and putting materials into unworkable condition. The crossings were the subject of letters previously written by Gill, asking that some action be taken on the matter.

When You Have a Cough or Lose Weight and Appetite Take This Advice

Fresno, Calif.—"After an attack of scarlet fever I was in a weak, anemic condition. My appetite was poor and I had no interest in anything. My friends did not expect me to live as with the weakness I had a bad cough. I had heard my parents speak of Dr. Pierce's medicines, so I got a bottle of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began to take it. Before I had used all of the first bottle I knew it was doing me good, for I felt a desire for food, my cough ceased and I began to have color and to take an interest in life. I continued to take the Golden Medical Discovery till I felt strong and well. Today I am enjoying the best of health."—Mrs. Esther Wolfe, 2311 Tyler Ave.

As soon as you commence to take this "Discovery" you begin to feel its bracing, appetizing effect. Buy it of your druggist, in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., if you desire free medical advice.—Advertisement.

SIX INJURED IN MOTOR SMASHES;
GIRLS VICTIMS

Six persons were slightly injured in automobile accidents last night. Two girls and two men whose identity the police did not learn, were cut and bruised when the automobile in which they were riding with J. Bailey collided with one driven by J. E. Lloyd, of the Oakland garage, at Twentieth and Webster streets; an unidentified woman was bruised by the machine of G. A. Wolfe, 1420 Broadway, Fresno, at Tenth street and Broadway; H. A. Hillen, 2289 Forty-seventh avenue, sustained a possible fracture of the knee when struck by the machine of Rev. Father Heneghan of St. Anthony's church at East Twelfth street and Fifth avenue.

In the Bailey-Lloyd accident both machines were wrecked when they were smashed into a telegraph pole by the impact of the collision. Wolfe was trying to avoid another machine when he lost control of his car and ran into the sidewalk and struck the unidentified woman.

Hillen was arguing with a man following a slight collision when he was struck by Father Heneghan's car.

THIEF TAKES MUSIC.

ALAMEDA, March 10.—Alameda has a musically inclined thief. He entered the home of Mrs. C. Ulrich, 914 Central avenue, according to a report filed with the police, last night and stole a $200 piano accordion. The instrument was the property of H. Nelson, 3421 Telegraph avenue, and had been left in Mrs. Ulrich's while Nelson was on a trip to Europe.
